VOL. XI. PITTSBURGH, THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 2, 1873. NO. 18

FIRST EDITION.

The Financial Feeling.

A FAILURE IN NEW YORK.

Indications from Other Points.

Nothing Startling Yesterday.

Confidence and Security Returning.

New York.

NORTHRUP & CHICK SUSPEND.

NEW YORK, October 1.—Northrup & Chick, bankers on Wall street, suspended this morning. Heavy calls from Western depositors is the cause. They have had no dealings with the Stock Exchange.

Washington.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—The Second National bank has resumed currency payments.

The public debt statement shows a reduction of $1,901,467 during the past month.

CHARLESTON ASKS FOR CURRENCY.

The President of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce telegraphed to Secretary Richardson as follows: "The New Orleans Picayune reports that after October 1st, you will maintain on deposit in that city $5,000,000 in currency, at the United States sub-Treasury, to be paid to the banks on checks on New York. The Chamber asks such relief to the amount of $500,000 for Charleston."

Assistant Secretary Sawyer replied to this telegram as follows: "Charleston will have all the relief afforded to other places."

While no special relief, as Secretary Richardson says, has been afforded New Orleans, it is known here the Picayune is correct in what it says. The government was asked to deposit $5,000,000, but the amount was reduced to $2,000,000. This is no new feature, the government always having currency in New Orleans for the purpose named.

Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, October 1.—There has been no day, before or since the financial disturbances assumed a very serious aspect, that there has been as much hopefulness here as to-day. It was apparent at the opening of 'Change and manifested itself to the close. The general markets gave evidence of returning vigor, and though business was mainly confined to jobbing sales, it was of such a nature as to show a considerable revival of confidence. With the banks and bankers it probably has been the greatest day for ten days. The improved tone was the common remark throughout the day. A noticeable feature was an increase in the amount of money on the street, much of which was placed at decidedly lower rates than yesterday. With returning confidence is also appearing in many quarters a desire for New York to designate as the earliest possible period some day for currency resumption in that city.

Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, October 1.—To-day the Planters' Bank and Louisville City National Bank withdrew from the Clearing House Association. These banks have been doing business as usual through the panic, paying all checks presented, and will continue to do so. They withdrew from the association on the ground of there being no necessity for the combination.

At a meeting of the Clearing House Association this evening with common consent the association dissolved through lack of co-operation of the merchants. The Bank of Kentucky announces that it will pay all checks on demand, as heretofore.

Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, October 1.—Thomas Kemp & Co., grocers, suspended to-day. Their liabilities are $50,000 and their assets $80,000.

Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, October 1.—The Chamber of Commerce adjourned till Saturday noon to enable the buying of wheat and to have the currency here for pay for it.

Chicago.

CHICAGO, October 1.—The financial situation here this morning presents a much brighter aspect than yesterday. The receipts of currency continue large, some three millions being reported yesterday, while the demands upon deposits are falling off. In fact some of the banks have already begun to furnish their customers with the usual accommodations, and the prospect is that it will not be long before business will resume its wonted channels. It is stated that the Third National bank will resume business in a few days, probably by the beginning of another week. There is a much firmer feeling in the grain market, with an advancing tendency in prices.

St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, October 1.—J. A. Stephens, cashier of the St. Louis Mutual Life Insurance Company, left his office early Monday morning and has not since been seen, nor is it known by his family or anybody else where he is. Previous to leaving the office he locked the inside door of the safe. Yesterday, it being necessary to obtain some papers from the safe, the lock was picked, and a package containing six thousand five hundred dollars was found to have disappeared. It is supposed Stephens took the package. An examination of his accounts was made and everything found correct. Stephens is highly connected, and his friends are not willing to believe that he embezzled the funds.

Boston.

THE HINGHAM NATIONAL BANK.

HINGHAM, MASS., October 1.—The defaulting cashier of the Hingham National bank is confined to his house by illness. The stockholders have voted to reduce the capital stock of the bank from $200,000 to $140,000 and continue business.

Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, October 1.—At the request of the debtors, and by consent of the petitioners, the order requiring Jay Cooke & Co., to show cause why they should not be adjudicated bankrupts has been continued for a week.

St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, October 1.—Nothing new transpired in financial circles to-day. The suspension of Northrup & Chick, of New York, however, created a little flurry, from the fact that they were correspondents of several banks here, among them Bartholow, Lewis & Co., the Mechanics Savings Institute, Donaldson & Fraley, and Kepler, Smith & Co., but it soon subsided. Bartholow first received a telegram from New York that the Bank of Commerce there would pay the checks for the indebtedness of Northrup & Chick. This latter firm had, according to the bankers' almanac, thirty correspondents in Missouri, some four of them in Kansas City, Wise Warren & Co., Long, Grant & Co., Kansas City. The Savings Association, and the Farmers' and Drovers' Savings bank, the two in Kansas and several in the Southwest, extending as far as Texas.

Several prominent business firms have called a public meeting, to be held in Mercantile Library Hall to-night, to consider the financial situation, but when the people arrived at the hall they found on the door a notice of its postponement. A large crowd gathered on the pavement during the evening and considerable discussion was indulged in relative to the condition of affairs. There was no explanation as to why the meeting was postponed, but many in the crowd attributed it to the influence of the banks, and these institutions were pretty freely denounced for their action in suspending currency payments.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, D. C., October 2, 1 A. M.

PROBABILITIES FOR TO-DAY.

For the Middle States westerly winds, increasing cloudiness and somewhat warmer weather.

For Thursday in the South Atlantic and Eastern Gulf States continued southeasterly winds and occasional rain, followed by clearing weather. For New England variable winds, mostly from the west, with partly cloudy weather. For the Lake Region and Ohio Valley, increasing southeast and southwest winds, cloudy or partly cloudy weather, followed by lower temperatures over the upper lakes and the northwest. There are indications of the existence of generally brisk northeast winds and possibly a more serious disturbance developing on the Florida coast.

Disposition of the Spanish Government Towards Cuba.

HAVANA, October 1.—Senor Zulueta received a telegram dated at Madrid to-day, from Senor Villamil, former Administrator of the Exchequer here, saying: "The government desires that I return to Cuba. Before accepting office again I must know if the people are determined to re-establish confidence and credit. I assure you that no violent measures will be taken respecting slavery or politics, the government acknowledging the Cuban debt. Will you aid in the work of improving the administration?" To this Senor Zulueta has replied: "Your patriotic offer is accepted with general enthusiasm, by all having confidence in the national government. We await your arrival with impatience."

State Convention at Utica.

Report of the First Day's Session.

Tammany Hall Triumphant.

Apollo Hall Delegation Kicked Out.

Liberals to be Invited In.

Recesses, Protests, Threats and Dissensions.

No Resolutions or Ticket Yet.

UTICA, N. Y., October 1.—The Democratic State Convention being temporarily organized, Committees on Credentials and Permanent Organization were appointed. A resolution was offered inviting the co-operation of Liberal Republicans, and immediately Thomas J. Creamer, contesting delegate of the Apollo Hall party, made a speech, disregarding the gavel and calls to order by the Chairman and the hisses and shouts of the delegates. The confusion was so great that only an occasional word of the speech could be heard, by which Creamer was understood to denounce the Convention, to charge the Chairman with packing the Committee on Credentials, and to threaten to withdraw. The scene was ended by the Convention taking a recess.

The Convention reassembled at three o'clock, but as no committee was ready to report, a recess was again taken till half past four.

The Convention reassembled at 4:30 P. M. When Ex-Governor Seymour entered he was received with great applause. The Committee on Credentials reported unanimously that the Tammany delegation from New York were the regular delegates. A motion was made that the Apollo delegation be heard through one of their delegates. A point of order was made which was sustained by the chair, that the report must first be acted upon. The report was agreed to, and the Apollo Hall delegation then left the hall. The Committee on Permanent Organization reported Horatio Seymour for President, and a long list of Vice Presidents and Secretaries.

Mr. Seymour then addressed the convention, urging the nomination of men of the highest character and undoubted capacity, and advising Democrats and Liberal Republicans to unite in the coming election, which was sure to result in victory.

A Committee on Resolutions was then appointed. The following resolution was called from the table:

Resolved, That we recognize in the Liberal Republicans of the State of New York worthy coadjutors in the work of reforms; that appreciating their devotion to principle, integrity and pure government, we cordially invite their co-operation.

The resolution was referred to the committee on resolutions.

A resolution was submitted denouncing the back pay law of Congress, which was referred to the committee on resolutions. A recess was taken until 7:30 P. M.

The Convention assembled at eight o'clock. Mr. Caldwell, from the Committee on Resolutions, announced that it would be impossible for the committee to report before to-morrow morning. After debate, a motion was made to postpone the nomination of the ticket until ten o'clock A. M. to-morrow, which was carried. Samuel J. Tilden was unanimously made a member at large of the State Committee. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention will not place on the State Committee any man who has voted for or received back pay under the recent act of Congress.

Members of the State Committee were then named, and the Convention adjourned till ten A. M. to-morrow.

The Apollo Hall delegation, after withdrawing from the Convention, went to Bagg's hotel, where they held a meeting in order to compare views on the situation they were placed in. Some were in favor of nominating a ticket, others wanted to remain here and demand admittance to the Convention, others wanted to adopt an address to the Democracy of the State, while others again, and the largest number, were in favor of adopting a simple protest. This view prevailed and the following was adopted:

ROOMS OF APOLLO HALL DELEGATION, UTICA, October 1.—The Democratic State Convention has rejected and insulted the delegation representing thirty-five thousand honest voters in the city and county of New York. This action was notoriously secured by deception and fraud in the temporary organization of the Convention and the construction of the packed committee on credentials. The Apollo Hall delegation accepts the position, and will calmly and confidently appeal to the ballot in November to establish its fidelity to Democratic principles and its strength in the local candidates, and effectually rebuke the arrogance of Tammany Hall. By order of the delegation, [Signed] S. G. COURTNEY.

THE MIXED COMMISSION.

The whole number of claims submitted to the American and British Mixed Commission was 497 claimants, making reclamation in the aggregate of the enormous sum of $96,000,000; of these only 181 were allowed, the gross sum of which awards reaches $1,929,220. It appears by an examination of the claims which were favorably considered that awards were only made against the United States in cases where property was taken, used or appropriated by the authorities of the United States, and in cases of the illegal imprisonment of British subjects during the late war.

LOUISVILLE, October 1.—The Ohio River Commission met at the Galt House this morning, nineteen members being present, organizing with J. K. Moorhead, of Pennsylvania, and George H. Thurston, of Pennsylvania, on the Special Committee to correspond with the Secretary of War through General Humphreys. The Chief Engineers reported correspondence with him, and approval by the Secretary of the recommendation to Congress of a plan to improve the Ohio river. General Humphreys signified his approbation of the Roberts' plan of locks and dams, with freshet chutes.

After a lengthy discussion on the proper construction of dams and locks the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this Board of Commissioners earnestly request the Congress of the United States to make an appropriation sufficient to construct one dam and lock with freshet chute, with the object of fully testing the practicability of this method of improving the navigation of the Ohio and tributaries.

J. K. Moorhead made a report in explanation of Lake Chautauqua, in Ohio, and that it is practicable to use it as a reservoir for the Ohio river, pumping water from Lake Erie into it. The Commission adjourned to Thursday at 9 A. M.

OUR NEW POSTMASTER'S COMMISSION.

Manufacture of Postal Cards.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 1, 1873.

The Supreme Court begins its regular annual term on Monday week, the 13th inst. Justices Swayne and Bradley are the only members of the Court who have yet arrived in the city. Justices Miller and Strong, who have been spending the summer in Europe, are looked for every day in the steamer at New York.

The Chief Justiceship.

It is now believed in Supreme Court circles that the President will make no appointment of Chief Justice until the meeting of the Senate, and that his choice will certainly fall on Senator Conkling. Objection has been raised to Senator Conkling, on the ground that he has been too closely identified with politics. A leading practitioner of the Supreme Court said to-day that there was no force in this objection, for Marshall, Jay, Taney and Chase had all been the most active politicians before receiving the appointment of Chief Justice, and as for that, nearly every leading lawyer in the United States was more or less mixed up in the divisions of parties. If the President was to be restricted to no-party men, the circle from which he could select would be circumscribed, indeed.

In this connection it may be said that very many of the most eminent Judges of both the Federal and the State Courts were known as party men before going on the bench, and the instances have been rare where any of them have been suspected of being influenced in their decision by partisan motives.

The Louisiana and South Carolina Cases.

Two of the most important political cases which were left undisposed of at the close of the last term of the Supreme Court will probably be allowed to go by default at this term. They are the case from Louisiana, involving the validity of the Kellogg state government, and the case from South Carolina, involving the constitutionality of the Ku-Klux act. As both the opposing parties in Louisiana are making up statements to go before Congress, that body will no doubt be left to decide between them. In reference to the Kellogg act, very little interest is now taken in it. The President is pardoning the offenders convicted under its provisions as rapidly as the public interests will permit, and, conditional upon the good behaviour of the parties concerned, has directed the suspension of all prosecutions.

Public Documents.

Only about fifty thousand volumes of public documents belonging to Senators remain at the Capitol. On the House side it is very different. Immense piles of documents belonging to members are stowed away, and some disposition will have to be made of them. More than one-half of the members of the House were not re-elected and these show no disposition to incur the expense of postage in forwarding documents to their late constituents. A re-elected member, who was here to-day sending off documents, said that he had already expended one hundred dollars in postage, which was rather a bitter pill.

General Negley,

of the Pittsburgh district, had an interview with the Secretary of the Treasury to-day and represented to him the inconvenience caused to the manufacturers and business men of Pittsburgh by the scarcity of currency, rendering it a difficult matter to pay off their hands. At his solicitation the Secretary ordered the shipment to Pittsburgh of $200,000 in currency, which, it is hoped, will be sufficient to supply the demand.

Our Postmaster.

The commission of Edward C. Negley, as Postmaster at Pittsburgh, vice Stewart, suspended, will be signed by the President to-morrow.

The Public Debt Statement

issued to-day, showing a reduction of nearly two millions for the month of September, is regarded as [illegible] under the [illegible] Secretary Richardson [illegible] that the reduction would have been at least three millions but for the premium paid on the twelve million of bonds purchased last week.

The recent firm stand taken by the Postoffice Department with the Morgan Envelope Company, relative to the manufacture of postal cards, appears to have had an excellent effect. The cards received within a day or two past are better than any heretofore manufactured, the most marked improvement being in the quality and finish of the paper. This would indicate that the company can, if they are so disposed, do the work satisfactorily. The manufacturers have caught up with the public demand, and all requisitions are being filled as fast as received. They now have on hand at Springfield about six million cards and there is no apprehension that the manufacturers will run behind.

ADDITIONAL STATE NEWS.

The helpers at the bar mill of the Allentown Rolling Mill Company struck on Monday, because they could not, as they allege, earn enough to pay their board. The bar mill is therefore idle at present.

William V. Leet, an aged citizen of Canton township, Washington county, and for many years County surveyor, died a few days ago.

The new Odd Fellows' Hall in Beallsville, Washington county, will be dedicated on Thursday, 9th inst.

The Beaver Argus and Radical says: On last Sabbath morning before daylight Mrs. Goll wife of Henry Goll, of Bridgewater, arose from her bed, made her way to the creek, and drowned herself. Her body was not found until about seven o'clock on Sabbath morning. Although Mr. Goll missed her from the bed in which they were both sleeping shortly after midnight, still he was not alarmed at her absence as he supposed she had gone to see her daughter (Mrs. Reed) who was sick at home, a few rods distant. The deceased had been unwell for some time, and was laboring under an aberration of mind, when the melancholy event transpired.

This from the Washington Reporter: Mr. A. S. Eagleson of Canton township, a short time since, while cutting up a large oak log, from a tree that had stood near his house, struck his ax against something that seemed harder than wood ought to be. An examination developed a piece of iron; and a good deal of labor brought to view an old horse shoe that had been fastened with two nails to the tree and had many years before evidently been used as a hook for hitching horses to. It was imbedded in solid wood, and forty-five circles or growths were counted on the outside of covering, showing that it had been concealed by the wood for forty-five years, so that it may be half a century since it was nailed up. It is an ordinary shoe and differs but little from those made at the present day. Who fastened it to the tree is not known.

The Allentown Chronicle says: The unfortunate complications into which Mr. Isaac Fine, of Easton, has fallen, will be generally regretted. For years past he has been one of the most active and enterprising of Easton dry goods dealers, and was in every way a pushing man. We suppose he overreached himself, and to get out of one difficulty he stepped into another by forging his father-in-law's signature to notes. The forgeries are said to amount to $30,000, and Mr. Fine has been lodged in Easton jail to await trial.

At a meeting of the manufacturers in Harrisburg on Tuesday evening, it was resolved to issue notes for wages for any amount, if necessary, to employees, made payable in ninety days, with interest, at such banks as the individual employer of company may have deposits. These notes will be taken in exchange by the merchants of the city for goods.

Fred. Brandt, of Scranton, defeated Charles Jamison, Pacific ex-champion, last week by seven points in a game of billiards of 1,000. The winner made runs of 96, 163, 227, 126 and 120 and an average of 43⅓, and the loser runs of 166, 141, 118, 96 and 150 and an average of 40 3-16.

As Mrs. Smith, of Frogtown, Luzerne county, was passing the railroad with her little daughter a few days ago a coal train killed the child and injured the mother.

Three coal trains were wrecked on the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad on Saturday night.

The tanners of the State, sick and tired of high insurance rates, are talking about organizing an insurance company of their own, with headquarters at Lewistown.

A man in Corydon, Warren county, has a Roman coin marked "Vespasian," and dated in the year 75.

Ex-Sheriff Jacob Sellers died in Chambersburg on Monday, in his fifty-seventh year.

The Hollidaysburg Register says: William Wighaman, of this place, was found dead in his bed on Sunday afternoon last. He had been sprawing for a couple of weeks, and his constitution was quite shattered. He had stopped drinking the day before, and was taking medicine to restore his shattered constitution and enable him to sleep.

HOMŒOPATHY.

Meeting of the State Association—Address of the President—Important Discussion.

The State Homœopathic Medical Association commenced its annual session on Tuesday, in Philadelphia, when Dr. Cooper, the newly chosen President, delivered the following address:

ADDRESS OF DR. J. F. COOPER, PRESIDENT.

Gentlemen, Members of the State Society:

We are here assembled to participate in the exercises of the Ninth Annual Meeting of the Homœopathic Medical Society of Pennsylvania.

And in compliance with the requirements of a time honored custom in societies, on assuming the position you have assigned me, I appear before you with a short address.

The fact of the formation and the maintaining of a society or association among men of any creed or profession, establishes their claim to the notice of, and also the consideration of men of intelligence.

And in proportion to the amount of intelligence, judgment and integrity of the membership of a society, so will be the power for good to its members and to mankind.

The interests of a class or profession, are most advantageously considered by the representative men of that class or profession assembled in council, and more particularly so if such deliberations are tempered with prudence, intelligence and judgment.

It is by the agitation of thought by intelligent discussion that principles and natural laws are developed, established and made available to the interests of man.

Though associations in the various departments of life have been common from the earliest ages of the world, though societies formed among medical men for professional purposes and for the advancement of the cause of medical education and for the diffusing of all that is learned from year to year is of comparatively recent origin.

A few of the societies of continental Europe, it is true, are venerable from weight of years, and honored for their efforts for the unveiling of the hidden mysteries of disease, and their persevering industry in seeking for remedies that will control it; but in America, Medical Societies or Associations are comparatively new.

Our National Society, the American Institute of Homœopathy, the oldest national body of the kind in this country, has been in existence but little over a quarter of a century, and this society dates its origin no further back than June 5th, 1866.

On that (to this Society,) memorable day thirty names of the Homœopathic practitioners of Pennsylvania were entered upon its list, and its proceedings became part of the recorded events of the day.

Each succeeding year has added to its numbers, its power and influence. And he that now look over its list of names and ponders over its proceedings, without glancing at the date of its organization, would scarcely recognize in its vigorous proportions, that the beginning of its history was so near in the past.

On becoming a member of a society of any kind, we indorse its standard regulations, and become amenable to its laws. One of the laws of this society reads: it shall be the duty of each member to attend the annual meetings of the society.

This you observe, if complied with, would make our meetings much larger, and I trust more interesting, and the record of our proceedings more valuable.

These annual meetings are to me, and I trust to all of us, the most pleasant of the duties of the year; they serve a three fold purpose.

The first of these, and by no means the least, is the renewal of that fraternal feeling, born of association and developed by educational influences, and a community of interest.

The second, the opportunity for the comparing of experiences, and from one another the learning of items of professional interest, that would otherwise be lost to the profession, were such an opportunity not presented.

The third is that by our assembling, and by combining our efforts and professional experiences, our own interests, and those of the profession at large, are more readily, and with it as far as our profession is directly concerned, also his moral and mental condition, are the effects of our study, and the reason for our assembling.

The elements entering into his composition, and the changes necessarily produced on these elements, in becoming part and parcel of his physical structure, with the laws by which they are controlled, claim our attention.

The atom, the molecule, the cell, the gases, carbon, calcareous matter, phosphorus, and many other substances, all more or less constantly changing relation within certain limits, and in accordance with certain natural and general laws furnish an almost boundless field for study and research.

Had man been created without any tendency or power in the elements of which he is composed to change, like as in the statue, there could be neither development nor death.

But to change seems to be as necessary to man as to nature, and the changes in his size, shape, state of health, or the performing of the various functions of his body, are all in compliance with certain general laws.

His birth and development to maturity, and the coming of age and death and consequent decay, are all in accordance with general physical laws.

Life is a constantly shifting scene. Its surface views are continually changing, and if the structures of the inner man are examined and considered, there is observed there also a constant succession of changes. The body may be laid to rest, the functions of reason and thought may slumber, but to maintain life the heart must continue to pulsate. The lungs must imbibe oxygen, and throw off carbonic acid. The secretions must continue and digestion must be carried on, and in order to the accomplishment of all this, the brain must continue to give off that nervous influence that is so necessary to the performance of all the functions of the body.

Time itself, as if intent on favoring the general tendency to development and decay, has been divided into seasons in imitation of the ever constant tendency to change observable in all nature.

Winter, spring, summer and autumn, each different in temperature, and the influence it exerts or hold upon organic life, and upon the elements entering into or composing organized bodies, holds an important position which cannot be filled by the others.

The cold of winter, locks up as it were, the resources of nature, and gives the soil an opportunity of preparing for the growth of another season, and there upon the earth to collect her material resources, which, when spring opens up and brings to bear its genial influences, in connection with the warmth of summer, in developing the plant, the fruit and the grain which, maturing in autumn, is ready to be applied in satisfying the wants of the animal portion of the creation.

The growth and maturing of the vegetable, with the changes in the mineral, minister to the wants of the animal. In the animal in its growth and development molecular motion, directed by a vital principle, produces healthy and a natural development.

While on the other hand, molecular motion with a depolarization of the molecules, and a consequent withdrawal of the vital principle produces death, and promotes decay.

The relation of the elementary substances entering into man's composition, and the power of a vital influence to mould these elements and assign them their proper places in his body, so that each and every part may perform the function for which that vital principle has moulded, and adapted it, are governed by general laws, any departure from which in the performance of a function, constitutes a pathological condition, more or less severe in proportion to its duration, and the causes that operate to disturb the harmonious workings of the whole structure.

If the deviation from nature's laws is very extensive, or involves the condition of a vital part, death is but too frequently the result of that deviation.

When we consider that this condition of things has existed from the creation of man, and will continue as long as the race of any portion of it exists, it cannot for a moment be supposed that a time will come while man is organized as he is, and holds his present relation to nature, that he will be exempt from disease, or cease to need remedial aid, when nature's laws are violated by him.

No violation of a natural physical law goes unpunished, and the infliction is in just proportion to the violation.

When we look at, and consider the elements of which man is composed, the means by which these elements are brought together, and the laws that control their union, and the possibility for antagonizing influences to operate either in his development or in the performance of the functions of his body, we do not feel surprised at times to see very considerable departures from a like of absolute perfection.

When these departures do occur, come they from what cause they may, they result in disease, either functional or organic, and impress the mind of man with the sense of a necessity. These necessities, in a general thing, enables him to develope means for the relief of his necessities. As disease is caused by either voluntary or accidental breaches of nature's laws, the physician's art becomes a necessity.

A man's intelligence extends, and a full sense of his wants are learned, the different phases of disease require to be studied in detail, and in order to the accomplishment of this, a full knowledge of all his parts, and the relation of part to its part becomes a necessity, and developed through force of circumstance the Science of Anatomy. To study Anatomy alone, would not meet all the requirements of the case; a knowledge of the structures is of little value without a knowledge of their functions. Here you will readily perceive is developed the necessity for another Science, Physiology. Again the propagation of the species and the continuance of his race, compels the development of another branch of medical science, included in the principles and teachings of obstetrics.

The accidents, and morbid growths, and ailments dependent on mechanical causes, require still another branch to be studied, as surgery.

Pathology and therapeutics are equally the result of that stern demand that is prompted by the wants of man, and materia medica, pharmacy and chemistry, each holds an important place in the list of wants, while medical jurisprudence and the different specialties taught, are no less required to complete the list that constitutes the sum of his necessities. Much remains to be learned in applying the principles of the sciences enumerated, notwithstanding that from year to year new discoveries are made and new mysteries are unfolded, and yet portions of the human structure remain in function as much a mystery as before the scalpel revealed their structural form and composition.

All the departments in Medicine are capable of being enriched by scientific research, and it is the duty of those of the present day to add in proportion to the means at their command, and by so doing enrich and beautify the temple being reared for the relief of human misery.

I trust that no member of this society will be so lost to duty as to be found here unwilling to add something to the general store of medical knowledge. The bureaus assigned the duty of preparing material for consideration at this meeting, have no doubt been busy in the performance of that duty, since our last annual gathering; and the membership doubtless have been busy also, in the preparing of papers on subjects if not new, yet in advance of what has been done, or learned on the subjects chosen for consideration.

The attention of the busy practitioner is generally so occupied, as to make it difficult to keep up with all the details of his business, and spare any considerable portion of his time in the preparation of papers of any moment to the profession. There are, however, few practitioners of prominence in the profession, in reach of a local society, that do not belong to one, and by sharing the necessary labor among its members, really valuable papers may be produced.

Improvement should be the aim of every society. No year of a society's existence should pass without some tangible evidence of advance.

A mere discussion on some medical topic of interest is very pleasant and withal profitable to the membership of a society. But like the superficial plowman who merely scratches the surface, from such a course a full crop of the golden grains of intelligence is seldom gathered.

It strikes me that a mere report of the existence of a local society, and the number of its meetings is not sufficient. If the State or National society receives from a local society a delegate, or number of delegates, as the case may be, some specimen of its work should accompany the parties presenting themselves as delegates, and that this should be made the test of the standing and worth of a society.

In order that our local societies be made more efficient, I would respectfully recommend that this society at its present session, or at some time previous to adjournment, take some action looking thereto.

There are many things that a society can alone consider and decide upon properly and profitably. Among them are the standing of and condition of our college, for the professional education of the young men of our State, who are brought into the profession.

The condition, prosperity and worth of the medical literature of our school of medicine, and the devising of a plan, and the procuring of the means for the effectual proving of those remedies upon the old, the middle aged, and the young of both sexes that are partially proven but not sufficiently so to make them thoroughly reliable in their application in the treatment of disease. Some of our neighbors of the other schools of medicine, are beginning to wake up to a sense of the importance of a thorough knowledge of the effects of pure drugs, as obtained by a proving upon the healthy of both sexes, and are casting about for means by which that object may be realized.

The day is possibly not far distant when an additional chair will be established in all our leading medical colleges, furnished with philosophical, and any other apparatus necessary to a thorough and successful proving, and systematizing of the pathogenesis of drugs.

Since our last meeting, I believe our list of membership has been shortened by the death of one, or possibly more of our esteemed associates in the profession. I trust that their memories may not be forgotten, but that at a fitting time suitable memorials will be presented by some of the members present.

In conclusion, it remains for me to thank you for your attention, and crave your indulgence for any errors of word or thought expressed, and express a desire that this, our ninth meeting, may be our best and most profitable, and our intercourse while together may be most harmonious, and tend to strengthen the bond of interest that has already bound us so closely in a professional brotherhood.

Afternoon Session.

The Society assembled according to adjournment, the President in the chair.

The reports and papers of the Bureau of Clinical Medicine and Zymoses being in order,

Dr. M. Friese, of Harrisburg, read a paper on the epidemic diarrhœa which existed in Harrisburg about eight or nine months ago, and related a number of typical cases.

Dr. Dudley, of Philadelphia, compared it with the epidemic diarrhœa which prevailed in Philadelphia, in the district of Kensington, about ten years ago, and which occurred in consequence of poisoning by the drinking of water. S. W. H. Cook, of Carlisle, said he was surprised to learn, as he had from Dr. Friese's paper, that the theory of water causation of this diarrhœa was exploded. He was not convinced that the cause was atmospheric.

Dr. Friese said that this diarrhœa existed just as a prevailing intermittent increased. He attributed the affection to malarial atmospheric influences, and not to water influence. And many persons took the disease who did not drink the water.

Dr. McClatchey said that of the nine or ten delegates from Philadelphia, who attended the meeting of the State Society, held during the existence of the epidemic referred to, he was the only one who escaped bowel affection, while he was the only one who drank copiously of the cold water.

Dr. Marsden drank no water except in the form of coffee or tea, and yet upon returning he had a violent attack of diarrhœa from which he had scarcely recovered. Yet he had generally found malarious disease to intermit or remit. If this were the case in the epidemic referred to it would in his mind be a strong argument in favor of the malarial origin of the disease.

Dr. J. C. Burgher said that no doubt none of us would contend that malarious influences did not operate during winter. Dr. Friese does not contend that the malaria which caused the disease was generated during the winter in which the disease prevailed.

Dr. Marsden thought the facts of the case were inconsistent with the idea that the malarial influence was imbibed by the system and remained quiescent for some time and then broke out.

The subject was further discussed by other members.

Dr. Friese's report was then accepted and referred to the Committee on Publication.

CEREBRO-SPINAL MENINGITIS.

Dr. J. H. McClelland then presented an elaborate paper on epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, prepared by a committee appointed for the purpose by the Allegheny County Medical Society, consisting of Drs. Cooper, Burgher, Hofmann, Willard, Seip and McClelland. The paper embraced the history, symptomatology, pathology, diagnosis, and prognosis, medical treatment and diet-tics of this very frequently prevalent and alarming disease.

The subject presented by the paper was then fully discussed by most of the members present.

The report and papers of the Bureau of Surgery were then presented by Dr. J. C. Burgher, of Pittsburgh, Chairman of the Bureau. The presentation of these papers was followed by an interesting discussion.

After the transaction of some general business, the Society adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock, to hear the annual address.

FROM BROOKVILLE, PA.

Two Boys Seriously Injured by Falling Into a Well—A Man Choked to Death While Eating.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

BROOKVILLE, PA., September 30, 1873.

On Friday evening, two sons of Mr. James Watt, of Brookville, were severely injured by being precipitated into a well which their father is digging for Mr. William Dickey. Mr. Watt had just put off a blast, and the boys, who are aged respectively twelve and fourteen years, insisted on going down to fill up the bucket with the debris caused by the blast. They were lowered part way down, when they called to those above to haul them up, as the gas was suffocating them. This was instantly done, but when almost at the top, both fell out of the bucket, and were precipitated to the bottom of the well, a distance of fifty feet. They were immediately taken out and removed to their home, the oldest one being terribly bruised, the back part of his head being laid bare, one leg broken, &c., the physicians in attendance pronouncing him in a dying condition. The other boy was terribly bruised and cut, but had no bones broken. It is now thought that both will recover.

An Irishman named Martin, who for sometime has been working on the railroad, in the vicinity of Reynoldsville, came to an untimely death at Brookville on Tuesday. He was eating his dinner at the hotel of Mr. M. E. Bell, when he choked on a piece of meat which he was eating. Medical aid was called and the obstruction removed from his throat, but he died almost instantly. He had been drinking hard, and that indirectly, in all probability, caused his death.

THE MONTROSE HORROR.

O'Mara Suspected of Poisoning His Father.

[From the Scranton Republican, September 30.]

Further investigation by the Coroner's jury and the magistrate before whom the suspected perpetrators of the horrible murder near Montrose station have been arraigned, strengthen the suspicion that this most revolting crime was committed by the son and brother of the victims, assisted by others as fiendish as himself. On Sunday an old wood chopper named Fagan, father-in-law of young O'Mara, was also arrested on suspicion of being implicated and was taken to Montrose. Yesterday the three were arraigned before a magistrate, who committed them to prison to await their trial.

Since the occurrence of this awful deed attention has been called to the suspicious circumstances attending the death of the father of O'Mara, which took place a few months ago. It appears that the old man had the toothache, and his son gave him some "tooth drops," which he said he had bought of a peddler. That night the old man was seized with spasms and died. Dr. Ains, of Milford, says he sold young O'Mara some strychnine only a short time before. The body of the old man will be exhumed to-day to ascertain whether death resulted from poison.

THE Macon Telegraph says: It seems highly probable that copper mining is likely to become an important interest in Middle Georgia. Some months ago a company was formed for the purpose of testing the value of the mine on the place of Mr. William Tuggle, near Union Point. The company bargained with Mr. Tuggle for the place, to pay him so much for it, on the 20th of September, provided their tests proved the mine to be of any considerable value. The services of an experienced Englishmen were obtained, and $6,000 spent in examining the mine. The result of the test was satisfactory, and last week the company paid $15,000 in cash for one acre of ground, with the privilege of mining two hundred acres. The company will at once put up $75,000 worth of machinery and proceed to work the mine to its fullest extent. It is believed that it will be a source of great wealth.

There has been frost enough in Wisconsin, say the local papers, "to take the bark off white oak fence posts." In the winter that frost is doubtless severe enough to cut the fence posts into stovewood. Farmers who have backwheat fields thereaway say it will "take greenbax to get slapjax this year."

PEARL WHEAT IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST
Delicious, Wholesome and Nourishing
Preparation of nature's great food ever produced. Essentially nothing but the woody fibre and a portion of the water are removed by the process, leaving all the starch, gluten and the greatest part of the mineral substances (phosphates), all that is nourishing in the wheat. The removal of the woody fibre makes it far more palatable than any preparation of wheat now in the market. No other article of food contains such proper proportions of the requirements of the whole human system. To those suffering from INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, and to persons of sedentary habits, it will prove invaluable. As a BREAKFAST DISH it is unequaled. Our best physicians here say it is of more importance you will never be without it. Ask your Grocer or Druggist for a Package. Manufactured only by the

GREAT INTER-STATE
EXPOSITION.
AT CHICAGO.
CHALLENGE
AND
At the Inter State Industrial Exposition in this city we shall exhibit a number of the IMPROVED
HOWE SCALES
As Scales are an article of general use, we think that the public would be pleased to have a comparison of the various manufacturers, made by a committee of skilled and intelligent men, who could devote more time to a thorough comparison and test than each individual could.
It is usual for Associations like the Exposition to appoint such Committee for inspection and comparison, and to make awards to the best goods.
As the Directors of the Exposition have not done this, we make the following challenge: We shall exhibit Seven distinct classes of Howe's Scales, as follows:
Railroad Track Scales,
Hay or Coal Scales,
Dormant Warehouse Scales,
Drop Lever Scales,
Portable Scales,
Large Counter Scales,
Small Counter Scales.
We challenge any and all manufacturers or dealers to compete upon the above mentioned classes, for the following mentioned awards:
Each class of Scale which the Committee decide to be the best to be awarded a
GOLD MEDAL,
Of value not less than One Hundred Dollars, the medal and inscription to be designed by the competitor winning it, and to be paid for by the losing competitors.
This, as will be seen, provides for
SEVEN GOLD MEDALS,
Each competitor to select one judge, and the judge to select one or two in addition, as may be necessary to make an uneven number. The committee to test and examine the various scales, and make their awards upon the Railroad and other Scales on the following points, which are the essential ones in scales:
ACCURACY,
SENSITIVENESS,
STRENGTH,
SIMPLICITY,
ECONOMY.
And if desired by any, we will add to the above the points of
QUALITY OF MATERIAL,
QUALITY OF WORKMANSHIP,
QUALITY OF FINISH.
Trusting that all who think they have a scale worthy of comparison with the Howe, will show their confidence by an acceptance of this challenge.
We are, very respectfully,

The Daily Commercial.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1873.

There are but two more days in which citizens can register. It should be seen to that the name of every Republican voter is placed on the poll books at once. That is done most surely which is done most promptly.

In New York, Boston and Philadelphia the interest on the established railroad mortgages which fell due yesterday was punctually paid. It is satisfactory to know that in the midst of a great crisis none of the leading railway companies have any idea of deferring interest payment a single day.

The fact that this is what is called an "off year" in politics, does not, by any means, make it an "off year" for voters as respects the discharge of their political duties. Let Republicans everywhere remember that their obligations of fidelity are as binding in matters apparently trivial as in those which are striking and great.

Speaking of the ensuing election in this State, an Ohio paper observes that everything, as yet, "seems as quiet as if the election had been forgotten." Our contemporary misreads the signs. The Republicans of the Keystone State are not addicted to mere effervescent gush. They are like hickory; slow to kindle and long to burn. Wait until the 14th of the month, and see with how little flurry and noise it is possible for a great work to be accomplished.

In some of the States in which elections are to be held this fall, the apathy of the Democracy is said to be so great that, as a partial remedy therefor, it is proposed that the voter shall sign a pledge binding himself to pay to the District Treasurer the sum of five dollars for absence from the polls. Now let the Republican voters of Pennsylvania show these inert and languid Bourbons what a living love of country, and of its best interests and welfare, can do.

The impression seems to be gaining ground that the most certain way of so covering into the United States Treasury the back-salary "swag" of the members of the last Congress that it can never be gotten out by interested parties, is by special Act of Congress. At least one bill for that purpose has been prepared which will be presented early in the ensuing session. For ourselves, we have no doubt that a simple authorization on the part of members is sufficient, but there can at least be no harm in making assurance doubly sure in the manner proposed.

A convention of the farmers of the Northwest will be held in Chicago on the 22d of next month, for the purpose, as set forth in the official call of "discussing the prevailing overcharges in transportation; and to incite and perfect the organization of the agricultural and other industrial classes," with relation thereto. The convention will be composed of delegates from the various farmers' clubs, granges, farmers' associations, agricultural societies, boards of agriculture, and other similar organizations of the producing classes of the United States and British Provinces.

"One of the natural characteristics of humbugs is brazenness. When a quack doctor has failed in one fraud he speedily turns up in another. When it is discovered that his magical pills are made of putty he offers to the public a treacle plaster as a universal remedy. Exposure does not lessen his impudence."—N. Y. Herald.

How true. And, moreover, what a striking portraiture of the measureless empiric effrontery of the Herald, which, as soon as it found out that the people were becoming sick of its "Cæsarean" charlatanism, suggested as an infallible remedy for the late financial scare, and a certain preventive against all future monetary panics, that the President should publicly decline a renomination!

Prosperity breeds credit, and credit stimulates enterprise, and enterprise embarks in labors which, about every ten years in England, and every twenty years in this country, it is found that the world is not ready to pay for. We have, however, had no general panic here—no wide-spread commercial crisis affecting all branches of business—since 1857, at which time the Democratic party was in the height of its power, State and National. Now that the more stupid and malicious of the Democratic organs are charging the Republican party with bringing about the late financial flurry in the stock market, it will be well [illegible]

Brave news comes from Iowa, respecting the progress of the political campaign. The anti-monopoly platform of the Republican Convention proves to have been exactly suited to the Patrons of Husbandry. When the Democrats held their convention, they also adopted an anti-monopoly platform, and called themselves anti-monopolists, probably in hope of securing the Granges. Most of the farmers, however, are with the Republicans, who, it is predicted, will carry the State by upwards of fifty thousand majority. This will be a splendid showing, but the banner Republican Commonwealth of the nation will be able to eclipse it. Pennsylvania does not propose to yield her well-earned laurels to any State, if patriotic labor and vigilance can prevent it.

"A fault confessed is half redressed." When a public journal discovers that it has committed an error of statement calculated to excite unwarrantable prejudice against a political opponent, the proper course to pursue is to make, at once, every possible amend. It affords us much pleasure to be able to reproduce, as we do in another column, the Post's frank and honorable retraction of its recent unjust charges, (made upon the basis of the letter of a malignant correspondent,) concerning State Treasurer Mackey and his alleged enormous deposit of public money in the Union Banking Company of Philadelphia. We commend the article, and the exhibit embodied in it, to the careful consideration of the public, without respect of party. No more complete vindication from unfounded accusations could possibly be given.

A new and important phase of the "Grange" movement consists in the inauguration of a plan looking to the establishment of mutual and interchangeable relations between the workingmen of the East and West, corresponding to those of consignor and consignee. It is proposed by an Iowa Grange to supply a mechanic's society of New York with flour, free from the intervention of middlemen, for a dollar a barrel less than the price now paid, and pork, bacon and ham at three cents per pound less. It is also proposed to bring the force of a co-operative movement to bear upon the price of coal, which it is alleged can be bought at the mines at $2 61 per ton, which, with the freight added, would give it to the consumer at less than four dollars. Whether the plan will prove successful in its operations, of course remains to be seen. On paper it looks feasible enough, and would seem to contain the germ of a principle, which properly developed might result in important reciprocal benefits to both sections.

We are quite willing to concede the honorable character of the motives which actuate the framers and supporters of the Prohibition ticket lately placed in nomination in Allegheny county. We entertain no sort of doubt that they honestly imagine the cause of sobriety and virtue will be advanced by the course they have seen fit to pursue. But the question of their personal and political disinterestedness is not the point for the people to consider. Aside from the fact that the late local option controversy involved a tacit agreement on their part that, if defeated, they would abstain from pressing the prohibitory issue at the polls for the period of three years—just as, had they been successful, they would under the law, have demanded the stoppage of the sale of liquor until the question should again be brought before the people for their vote—it is a matter of considerable doubt whether prohibitory legislation has not wholly failed to produce the good effects expected from it. For instance, in the States of Maine and Massachusetts, where there are stringent laws, the statistics of the census of 1870 plainly show that prohibitory legislation has not prevented crime, comparatively as in the same ratio of population in localities where the sale of liquor was regulated instead of prohibited. The COMMERCIAL has thoroughly at heart the promotion of the cause of temperance, morality and religion. But it certainly fails to perceive how these great objects are to be advanced by dragging them into politics on all occasions as the basis of distinctive political organizations. Let the friends of temperance in Allegheny county reflect well upon the matter.

JUDGE GORDON AND JUDGE PAXSON.

In order to dispel the various unfounded rumors that Judge PAXSON'S friends in Philadelphia were hostile to Judge GORDON, we publish the following letter of congratulation from Judge PAXSON to Judge GORDON. Its tone is hearty, as well as friendly, and shows that there never was any foundation for the reports that have been put in circulation:

PHILADELPHIA, August 16, 1873.

Hon. Isaac G. Gordon:

MY DEAR SIR—I congratulate you sincerely upon your nomination by the Republican State Convention for the office of Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. While our friends here claimed, with some reason, that the candidate should have been selected from this city, and were kind enough to present my name for the position, they nevertheless recognize the fairness of your nomination, as well as your eminent fitness for the position. I am satisfied they will give you a hearty support.

Of the result of the campaign there can scarcely be a doubt. Reports from all parts of the State are cheering. As to Philadelphia, I trust it will stand by the Republican party, its platform and its candidates. Very truly, yours,

EDWARD M. PAXSON.

FRANCE FROM THE INSIDE.

Foreigners, most bewildered by the relations of parties in France, cannot be more deeply impressed with the anomalies of the situtation than some Frenchmen who have, near at hand and in the midst of them, watched the development of events. They speak of the condition of affairs as singular, as without parallel. They remark that, while the etiquette of the government is republican, its aims are monarchical, its administration royalist, and its hopes are directed towards a fusion of parties. On the other hand, while those who aspire to kingship are permitted to assert aloud their whims and ambitions, the nation used to the Republic, murmurs low to itself—how foolish it would be to change the political form. The strange spectacle is beheld of a fallen ruler who cannot show himself in public without hearing enthusiastic plaudits break forth all around him, while the coalition which overthrew him cannot perform their part in the ceremonies of their official position, without seeing on the faces of spectators the smile of good natured mockery. In Paris the expression, we need hardly say, implies no profound respect either for the men or for the right by which they hold their places. Marshal MACMAHON, however, we are told, has no part in the raillery flung at his Ministers, as he is believed fully to appreciate THIERS, the popular idol, and to have had nothing to do with his fall.

Perhaps few onlookers fail to agree with the Frenchman who professes his belief that in all history there are not many examples of a condition like that of his nation to-day; "an entire people suspended by a thread, millions of men uncertain when they go to sleep at night under what form of government they shall awake the next day, or the day after the next, or the following month; France played for as a stake at dice by partners more or less dexterous; power coveted as delicious booty; the republic covering petty intrigues with its name; Frohsdorf babbling manifestos which Chislehurst disavows; legitimacy and Cæsarism engaging in a duel of words about banners of which neither one nor the other has the disposal." In view of such things even a Frenchman may well, as he does, quote HAMLET and exclaim—"Words, words, words." He is certainly right when he refuses to accept the philosophy of Dr. PANGLOSS and emphatically denies that all is for the best in the best possible of worlds.

It may be that he is not far wrong when he affirms that "ignorance is at present absolute mistress" in his native land, "the veritable queen of the French Republic." He gives some striking illustrations of the assertion, derived from late newspaper lucubrations, but says that to point out and correct all would consume a lifetime. He is indignant at the attitude and conduct of the nobles. The time is long gone by, he says, when the most intelligent of the French noblesse freely served the cause of progress; when MIRABEAU thundered at abuses, when LAFAYETTE fought for liberty, when HERAULT DE SECHELLES gave his life for the Republic, when the Marquis of [illegible] mounted the scaffold for the people. The nobility of to-day have been reconstituted, and with less generosity in their ideas than formerly, they have preserved their ancient resentments and their ancient obstinacy. Around them are grouped as battalions the satisfied members of the middle class, all who, raised by the Revolution, long ago denied and betrayed its principles. Their fathers shed their blood to destroy the privileges or the superstitions which they have piously re-established and restored to the order of the day. These are the men who have resolved to engage in a last battle with the modern world, which they call confusion and disorder. They are contending for what they call "moral order," that elastic thing which may become God or a table or a tub, and, as chance determines, may denote Legitimacy or Orleanism or the Empire.

But these men who are seeking to be leaders and to restore the past—these implacable enemies of the spirit of progress recruit their adherents among the most ignorant portion of the nation. And it is alleged that their ignorant retainers are not found only among the peasantry. A clerical and a legitimist, the President [illegible] among the young men [illegible] by him, the greatest number of students who had neglected their opportunities belonged to the orthodox ranks. Feudalism is, indeed, only a memory, but gentlemen still willingly leave to plebeians the care of self instruction.

The Frenchman who takes this sombre view of things, bitterly assails clerical education as one of the worst evils with which his country would be visited, in the event of a restoration of the past. It seems that in France just now much is talked about the ancient fame of the Jesuits as educators, and in evidence that they still merit their repute, much has been made of the success at the Ecole Polytechnique of certain pupils from one of their prominent schools. It appears, however, that the pious fathers deserve no credit in the matter, as they employ at high salaries, lay teachers trained in the university to teach their pupils everything but religion. But by their instruction in this subject, it is alleged, the good fathers are able to give such a bent to the youthful mind that a Frenchman educated by the Jesuits and a Frenchman educated in the university are more unlike each other than an Englishman and a German. It is found that the two educations rivals, even hostile to each other, being imparted in the same country, there are in France two Frances, which speak the same language without attaching the same sense to its words. There is the France which loves in its national traditions whatever is generous, bold, superb, sacrifice in the cause of the people, enthusiastic love of liberty, the indomitable spirit which has made France the inspirer and leader of the world in great undertakings, and there is the other France, bigoted, timid, superstitious, ignorant, gloomy and egotistical, which attaches the safety of the country to the staff of a processional banner.

The Frenchman who thus speaks does not believe that the latter is to be the France of the future, but the fact that so many of her people wish to see the change seems to him sufficiently to justify the wonder of other nations and the withholding of their sympathy.

And we doubt not that the foregoing brief inside sketch of the state of things in the land of revolutions affords a clearer and more satisfactory view of the situation than would be derived from columns of outside discussion.

State Treasurer Mackey's Account with the Union Banking Company.

[From the Pittsburgh Post, October 1.]

We acknowledge the receipt of two papers from State Treasurer Mackey, copies of which we append, showing his transactions with the suspended Union Banking Company. Having some days ago published a letter from our Harrisburg correspondent, whom we considered reliable, in which it was charged that the Commonwealth had from three to five hundred thousand dollars on deposit in that bank, we do not hesitate to act justly and give the Treasurer's figures as certified to by Mr. E. C. Maurer, acting for Auditor General Allen, and W. B. Hart, the Cashier of the State Treasury. It will be noticed that the amount on deposit when the bank suspended was but $11,320 58.

AUDITOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
HARRISBURG, PA., September 29, 1873.

I hereby certify that the amount on deposit with Union Banking Company on the 31st day of August as returned by the State Treasurer and as certified to by the Union Banking Company, was $56,712 36.

Witness my hand and the seal of office this day and year aforesaid.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA,
HARRISBURG, September 29, 1873.

One leading cause of the money trouble, but one generally overlooked, is explained by an intelligent correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, who charges it upon the vast watering of the Vanderbilt stocks, which created an immense clique of holders of these fancy stocks constantly operating at the Stock Board to keep up prices. These being the heaviest dealers in stocks the banks sustained them under a mistaken idea of the necessity of keeping up public credit and confidence, and in order to do so were compelled to deny the usual accommodation to merchants, who were thus driven to the private bankers and bill discounters. That the inflation of the Vanderbilt stocks was wholly unwarranted was proven by Vanderbilt himself borrowing $2,250,000 to pay a dividend on the watered stock of the Lake Shore Railroad, which loan has not been repaid. It is now alleged that all the dividends on these watered stocks have been paid in the same way, and that some of them are worth really no more than Erie. It is alleged that if banks did their duty and refused any more loans to these roads and to the speculators engaged in keeping up their stocks they would all decline rapidly, and that sooner or later they must inevitably do so when the facilities for borrowing come to an end. None of them appear to be much better off than Northern Pacific, and the blows aimed at that now rebound upon their own fancy stocks. The simple truth is that the New York banks are afraid to let the Vanderbilt clique fall.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

The season is fast approaching when the husband without any discipline in his family must arise betimes and with chattering teeth, and fingers all benumbed, proceed to light the kitchen fire.

The movement to establish a Polish church in New York city gives immediate promise of that religious millennium prefigured in the missionary hymn as spreading from Pole to Pole.

New societies are the order of the day. In Indiana one has been organized called the "Friends of Economy." We have yet to hear of any enemies of that cardinal virtue.

The financial recovery continues. Each day shows its own gain; and as every day enables completer preparation to be made and more distant resources to be gathered in, it becomes safer to decide that the great danger that has convulsed the country is past, or, at all events will soon be so.

Chicago experiences no inconvenience from the temporary suspension of the water supply, as her citizens take their whisky "straight."

A duel is expected in Brooklyn, the challenger being a polical donkey, and the challenged a donkey politician. Both ought to fall, should there be a fight.

An excellent specimen of the crack jaw tongue is found in the (English) Charterhouse examination questions for 1873, under the head of botany, where the scholar is told to explain the following terms: "Malva has a gamosepalous calyx, a polypetalous hypogynous corolla, polyandrous monadelphous epipetalous stamens, and a superior syncarpous pistil."

There is a sort of cheap Thoreau in the town of Hyde Park, Mass., in the person of a "hermit naturalist," a man who has had the bad taste to live for eighteen years in a hut in the woods, and fill it with birds, snakes, frogs, porcupines, bugs and "such small deer."

Does agriculture pay? An old Green Mountain farmer unhesitatingly asserts that from the first settlement of Vermont to this day, agriculture has paid better than any other pursuit within its borders.

New Orleans papers state that though the schools of that city have been under the control of Republican officials since 1870, there has been no discrimination practiced against anybody, parent, pupil or teacher, on account of politics or color.

The season of navigation will soon close. It is very desirable that it should be improved to the fullest possible extent in moving grain destined for the seaboard.

The American system of holding diocesan conferences is making its way in England. A conference was lately held in the diocese of Bath, at which the Bishop proposed to make the American system a part of the constitution of the diocese.

The new blacksmith shop at the Rock Island Arsenal is the largest one in the United States, if not in the world. It is built of stone and iron, has a frontage of two hundred and ten feet on the main avenue, with two wings each three hundred and fifty feet long and sixty feet wide.

A hopeful proprietor of the invention of a new rail in two parts, with packing between, living in New Hampshire, intimates that he declines $100,000 for his patent right, and will not look at anything less than half a million. The precise value of the invention cannot be determined until after a practical test.

Iowa papers sound the timely warning for all farmers to look out for prairie fires. Over a quarter of a million dollars was lost in this way last year, besides serious loss of life.

Peace has been made between the contending life insurance men in New York—the lion and the lamb—Mutual and the Equitable, Winston and Hamans lie down together, and will peacefully take premiums from the public without quarreling over the rate or the division.

It is intended to carry out in England, in an extensive way, the French invention of making paper from the sheath of the hop stalk, when the outer skin has been removed. The substance made from the material is of great suppleness and delicacy, and by its employment in this manufacture a new and considerable source of profit will be opened for the hop grower.

The English capitalists do not appear to have lost confidence in Canada, for the loan for the Inter-Colonial Railway has been readily taken up in the London market, and on favorable terms at that.

The Icelandic Literary Society, of Reykjavik, has just sent to the Smithsonian Institution a series of valuable books published in that island during the last three years.

The bees in the vicinity of Paducah, Ky., have not paid that strict attention to business which is characteristic of the apiarian tribe, and the result is that they have not accumulated a stock of honey sufficient to last them through the winter. Perhaps they have been watching their human fellow creatures, and have been led to the conclusion that there are other ways of making a subsistence than working for it.

All the St. Paul, Minn., banks respond to all demands upon them in currency, and have done so all the time, with no thought of doing otherwise. There is no excitement or alarm there, and aside from the stoppage of wheat purchases, business goes on as usual.

Says the New York World: "So stable and reputable is the management that the Chicago [illegible] perpetrated in the name [illegible], a very palpable hit!"

The Smithsonian Institution has just published a "Systematic Index" of foreign institutions of science and learning, showing localities and addresses of all the universities, museums, libraries, observatories, and societies in foreign countries.

Harper's Bazar rebukes the trite witticisms and innuendoes respecting mothers-in-law, and offers a pungent reminder: Even as things are in society, how many a married man is indebted to his mother-in-law for taking a thousand burdens from his wife's shoulders and his own!

A very remarkable coal vein has just been discovered six miles south of Golden City, Colorado. It is a tilted up deposit of gray clay, filled with the trunks and limbs of trees resembling red cedar, transformed into bright, hard coal, resembling jet. Large quantities of rude flints, tools and arrow heads have also been found.

A company called the Chicago Transfer Company has been organized in that city for the purpose of building a railroad in a crescent entirely around the city, to transfer cars between the different roads entering Chicago.

Certain French writers are striving for a revision of their language, and particularly for the introduction of a neuter gender and a pronoun corresponding to our "it," so that the French will not have to "she" in speaking of a table or of other inanimate objects.

An eastern genius, fit for treason, stratagem and spoil, has patented what he is pleased to call a musical locomotive whistle, which imitates the sounds of sixteen differents instruments, such as the bugle, fife, piano, melodeon, &c., and gives vent to them all at once, if desired.

PERSONAL.

Vice President Wilson is in Boston. The second volume of his book is now finished, and will be published next winter; a second edition of the first volume is now going through the press, a third volume will appear in course of time, but will not be first published in the Independent, as the other two have been. Mr. Wilson does not do much work on the book now, but cannot rest entirely from labor.

We are likely to have plenty of opera in this country during the present season. Nilsson, Miss Cary, Capoul, and a good company have opened at the Academy, in New York, under Strakosch's management. Next week Maretzek opens the Grand Opera House with Lucca, Tamberlik, Di Murska, and other singers of renown. Miss Kellogg will head a fine combination to give English opera only. Nilsson goes back to London in May.

Among the delegates to the Evangelical Alliance, which is to meet at New York on Thursday, is the Rev. Narayan Sheshadri, of Bombay, an Indian of the highest caste. He is nearly six feet high, very erect, nearly black, with cut features, keen, black eyes, and small hands and features. He wears the oriental costume, his hair being entirely concealed by a white turban. He was educated with a view of taking a position in the British Indian civil service, but became a pastor of the Presbyterian denomination after embracing Christianity.

There is a gentleman in Iowa who was at one time during a past age the betrothed of the gentle Susan B. Anthony. Another, an unrequited lover of Anna Dickinson, both at the present writing hale and hearty, and as able to take a square boarding-house meal as though they had never loved "not wisely but too well."

The probable yield of the wheat crop in France possesses at this moment a special interest, and all information bearing on the subject is deserving of attention. The firm of Barthelemy, Estienne, of Marseilles, which is largely engaged in the foreign corn trade, is accustomed to obtain in July of every year, from correspondents in every part of France, reports on the prospects of the crop in each particular locality. The advices thus received from over four hundred districts are now published in a volume, and the general results are summarized in an appendix, and also exhibited in a perhaps more striking manner by a map of France, in which each department is colored according to a classification of the more or less favorable accounts sent in. It is found that in eight different departments only the wheat crop can be considered a good one; in thirteen it is tolerably good; in fifty-two, moderate; in thirteen it is described as poor; and in one, Corsica, as positively bad. The good departments are the Manche, Morbihan and Deux-Sevres, in the west; the Haute-Pyrenees and Herault, in the south; and the Drome, Alpes-Maritimes and Haute-Savoie, in the southeast. Little corn is, however, grown in these Southern districts, but, on the whole, the results are less unfavorable than had hitherto been supposed, as the pretty good largely predominate. The oat and barley crops are almost everywhere reported as excellent.

STATE NEWS.

John Burkert, of Port Clinton, went pheasant shooting on Sunday, and accidentally shot and killed himself.

Harriet Beecher Stowe gave Reading a reading, the other night.

The Lancaster Manufacturing Company have suspended payment for a few days, on account of not being able to procure currency from the banks of that city.

We learn from the Marietta (Lancaster county) Register that the building of the Hanover Junction and Susquehanna Railroad, as surveyed by engineer Gitt via the Codorus creek, is now a fixed fact. The graduation, masonry and bridging of the eastern division has been awarded to H. E. Wolfe, of Columbia. The engineers will be placed on the work early in October preparatory to grading, which will be commenced about the first of November. A first-class depot is to be erected near the center of Marietta. The location of the bridge is yet to be decided, the majority of the board inclining to the upper end as the most practicable.

The body of Mrs. Mary Miller, who died at Lancaster in August, 1872, was exhumed on Friday from the Trinity Lutheran graveyard for the purpose of being re-interred in the Woodward Hill Cemetery. During the removal of the body it was discovered that the head presented a mouldy appearance and on examination it proved to be petrified.

At the recent exhibition of the Cumberland County Agricultural Society, the receipts at the gates amounted to $2,218 80, and from all sources, $2,815 80.

Recently a boy named William Blakely met with a singular accident near Norristown. He was lifting the tow-line, when it caught and dragged him along for some distance. He would have probably been cut in two had it not been for the assistance of a boatman. He was extricated from his perilous predicament in a badly lacerated condition, but fortunately no bones were broken.

Trinity Lutheran church, Reading, was afire Sunday afternoon, but escaped destruction by the prompt action of a number of men.

Lancaster must look to her laurels. Among a litter of pigs born in West Marlborough, Chester county, last week, was one which had one head but two bodies joined at the navel and diverging back of it, with eight legs. Both sides are similar and perfect.

The Reading Eagle tells this: "Quite a touching affair occurred in the Reading Savings Bank on Saturday afternoon, which afforded a lesson to some men who were in the bank at the time. Two little boys, each eight or nine years of age, came into the institution and stated to the cashier that they heard the bank wanted money and they had come to give them some. Each had a bank book and fifty cents. The money was duly deposited and the little lads left. Soon thereafter another little boy, accompanied by his aged grandmother, entered the bank and deposited fifty-three cents, also to help along the bank."

The Sunday Morning Press, of Louisville, is responsible for the following story: Mr. Murray's dog Bess, a very intelligent creature, was favored with a triplet progeny. One of the trio was a poor deformed creature. Bess nurtured this little weakling with true maternal solicitude. She seemed to appreciate its physical defects, and made every demonstration of compassion for its sad infirmities; like the tender hearted mother who fosters the weaker offspring at the expense of its more vigorous companions. This singular treatment of the little one continued several days. At length a change came over the spirit of "the good queen Bess." Finding she could not transform the deformed subject into a shapely scion of her royal house, she determined to put an end to its misery. Taking it up tenderly in her mouth she trotted down to Oil creek, mounted the bridge, and having advanced to the center leaned over and dropped it into the stream. Pausing then till the last bubble disappeared from the surface, Bess ran down to the water, swam in, dived and brought up the body, carried it back to her master's house, pawed a hole in the ground and buried it. Perhaps this story will be discredited, but we had it from Mr. Murray himself, who received it from members of his own family, who witnessed the whole performance, and are prepared to authenticate this version.

Rev. W. H. Thorne, of Philadelphia, has been employed as assistant editor of the Chronicle.

[illegible] says: Fragments of iron ore have been found scattered over the [illegible] Buckingham mountain. These are pronounced by a gentleman skilled in mineralogy to be of the very best quality of fibrous ore—better than any hitherto examined in that vicinity. No digging has been done on the property, and the specimens referred to were lying on the surface, where they had been knocked about like other fragments of stone for a century or more.

Mrs. Jane Taylor Worthington, mother of the late Hon. Wilmer Worthington, died in West Chester on Thursday night last, September 25th, at the venerable age of ninety-four years. The deceased was the mother of six sons, John, Isaac, Lewis, Wilmer, Carver and Amos, all of whom were large, stalwart men, and one daughter, Melinda, who married the late John Marshall, and she had outlived them all. Some years since her leg was broken by a fall, and it never got well.

Sharon is building a ten thousand dollar engine house for her fire department.

Chester shipped to Philadelphia, during the month of August, about 300,000 gallons of milk, which retails there at eight to ten cents per quart. The dairy farmers get only three and a half cents per quart for it.

Coal and Iron in the Virginias.

The New York Bulletin has been paying a good deal of attention to this subject. We make the following extract setting forth the operations that have been commenced on ore beds:

At Fisherville	129 miles west of Richmond	1
Near Staunton	139 miles west of Richmond	1
At Pond Gap	145 miles west of Richmond	1
At Goshen	168 miles west of Richmond	2
At Lowmoor	196 miles west of Richmond	1
At Covington	205 miles west of Richmond	1

As showing that these investments in iron lands are not merely speculative, but are made with a view to actual working, it may be stated that furnaces are already in operation, or are about to be established at the following points:

At Richmond		1
At Polersville	56 miles west of Richmond	1
At Siberton	147 miles west of Richmond	1
At Elizabeth	153 miles west of Richmond	1
Near Bell's Valley	164 miles west of Richmond	1
Near Longdale	185 miles west of Richmond	1
Near Clifton Forge	192 miles west of Richmond	1
Near Laurel	226 miles west of Richmond	1
At other points not yet decided upon		4

Thus the preparatory work, effected with a few months, covers the opening of 17 coal mides, 7 iron ore beds and 12 iron furnaces. The furnaces already built, or to be early completed, represent an annual production of about 120,000 tons of pig iron, and, to convert the iron ore into rails or other manufactured iron, a consumption of nearly 1,000,000 tons of coal. Thus, within nine months after opening the railroad, we have a very important industry established in this region. Such a beginning, made as it is mainly by our wealthiest and most intelligent mining capitalists, carries its own conclusions as to the great importance which Virginia must assume at an early day as a source of supply of iron and coal.

The fuller returns of the British Board of Trade show how nearly a complete stop has been put to the exportation of iron to this country. Comparing the month of August, 1872 with the same month in 1873 the export of pig iron declined from 10,508 tons to 7,225; of bar, angle and rod iron from 5,602 to 479 tons; of railroad iron from 46,005 to 6,937 tons; of hoop and sheet iron from 3,305 to 462 tons; of unwrought steel from 2,066 to 1,342 tons; and cast iron shows an increase from 1,655 to 2,282 tons. Uniting all the classes of iron and steel the exports were 61,971 tons in August, 1872, and only 18,737 tons, or less than one-third as much in August, 1873.

Continual evidences of the growth of the country accumulate. Among the latest significant indications is the fact that the number of money orders issued during the fiscal year ending June 30th last, exceed those of the previous fiscal year by 800,000; that the aggregate excess in money on orders issued and paid was $9,000,000, and that the sale of stamps and stamped envelopes for the last fiscal year exceeded the previous year by $1,250,000. When it is added that the postal railway service is extended yearly some 8,000 or 10,000 miles, some idea is gained of the rate at which we are progressing as a nation.

The Tonic of the Period.

This is a trying season to persons deficient in stamina and out of health. To rally their physical energies by the most approved artificial means is a duty they owe to themselves. Foremost among the tonics and alteratives of the age stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a vegetable stimulant and corrective, against which no tenable objection can be urged. There is no risk in recommending it as the best preparation in existence for renovating an enfeebled and broken down system. The most valuable medicinal products that nature has ever yielded to botanical research are blended in this famous elixir, and its stimulating basis is recognized in our public hospitals as the purest of all the varieties of distilled liquors. For general debility, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, constipation rheumatism, billiousness and intermittent fevers it is a positive specific.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, October 1, 1873.

We have again a very quiet day, and the "plant of slow growth" seems to be gaining in strength.

No difficulty has been experienced by any of the banks represented in the Clearing House in making their exchanges, and the feeling among them is far more hopeful and encouraging than it was some days since.

The restive uneasiness of some depositors has disappeared, and the whole horizon wears a flush of brighter light.

In New York yesterday the difference between certified checks and currency, late in the day became nominal, and we may soon expect it to disappear altogether.

As soon as the stock list has fairly settled, we may look for a large buying demand for first class stocks. Capitalists and large investors cannot fail to be attracted; and the result will be that in a short time New York will have fewer stocks and more money than for a long time; money once loosened up there the feeling produced by its presence will spread and start the locked up currency all over the country to moving again.

With the increase of buyers prices will advance and holders will sell out. Such has always heretofore been the case of the market, and such it doubtless will be in this case.

One very favorable indication is that the demand for loan certificates (issued in place of greenbacks by the Clearing House Association) has ceased and the banks report their deposits rising.

In regard to a dispatch from Washington saying that the Comptroller of the Currency had decided that a bank which refused to pay legal tenders to depositors, and insists on paying them in certified checks, forfeits its charter by such action, it is doubtful whether the Comptroller possesses any such power, and it is more than doubtful whether he expressed any such opinion. For it is known that the Comptroller telegraphed to New York on Saturday that he cordially approved the action taken that day by the associated banks of that city, which involved the issue of loan certificates and by implication the payment of demands in certified checks.

The prompt and regular manner in which business is going on in New York, and no failures being reported among stock operators, is of vast assistance in restoring confidence. Aided as it has been by the assurance of President Grant in his letter to Mr. Claflin that if necessary the $44,000,000 reserve will be called on to meet the requirements of the government. In regard to the pre-payment of the November interest, it is not ordered without rebate but subject to a rebate of six per cent. in coin. Of the $13,304,929 due, according to the public debt statement last issued $2,926,000 is on registered bonds held in this country and which will be paid at any time after to-day. The remaining $10,478,000 are coupon bonds, and held for the most part abroad. We have advices that at a special meeting of the Court of the Bank of England the minimum rate of discount was advanced to five per cent. The bank lost £638,000 withdrawn for remittance here, which affords a sufficient reason for the advance. Consols are reported steady. United States bonds a shade easier, especially new fives, which declined ½. Erie shares are higher, being 42½ against 41½. There were three failures of London Stock Exchange brokers in connection with the Erie speculation. The applications for discounts in London are said to be heavy, both at the Bank of England and in the open market, the rate for three months' bills being the same at both sources.

—Below we give the latest quotations of Philadelphia stocks, as reported by Messrs. Robinson Bros.:

Penna. Central	46½	Lehigh Valley	55½
Reading	51¾	Phil'a and Erie	16
United Cos. N. J.	115	Pittsburgh 5s	71
Oil Creek	18	Central Trans	40

Pennsylvania eight per cent. above opening quotations of yesterday. Reading seven per cent. higher.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
WEDNESDAY, October 1, 1873.

REMARKS.—The month of October has arrived and brought with it charming weather. Everybody to-day seemed to be in good spirits and business men generally predict that everything will be running smoothly in a week or so. They say that if people would be a little more patient and keep down all excitement confidence would soon be restored, money would return to the banks and the wheels of commerce and finance again set in motion. The market to-day presented a little more life than it has down for the past few days and by the close of this week there will be a better demand for everything of a staple nature.

Below will be found the wholesale prices for this market unless special mention is made to the contrary:

ALES—There is a very good demand for the leading home make of ales. The stock of English ales in New York city is quite light, and what there is in first hands is held very firm at the quotations given below: X, $9; XX, $10; porter, $10; India ale, $11 ⅌ bbl; Bass' English ale, in kilderkins of 28 galls, $22 75 ⅌ doz. bbls, [illegible]; hhds, [illegible] galls, $52 50@55 00; in cases, bottled, [illegible]; Guinness and Younger's stouts, $2 75; Caswell & Hazard's ginger ale, $2.

ASHES—Trade continues rather tame, and since our last report the prices have been unchanged. Arsenic, 6@8c; refined soda, 5@5½c; common do, 4c; pots, [illegible]; pearls, 11c; black lead, 4½c; nitrate soda, 4½@4¾c.

BEANS—The supply is better than it was last week, but the prices remain unchanged at $2 15@3 00 ⅌ bushel.

BANNER BAKING POWDER—With a very active trade we quote at the following prices: ¼ lb cans, $1 60 ⅌ doz; ½ lb cans $3; 1 lb cans $5 56; 5 lb cans $26; 10 lb wooden boxes, 40c ⅌ lb.

BEESWAX—There does not seem to be much inquiry at present, but in a small way we can quote sales at 30@32c ⅌ lb.

BACON AND PROVISIONS—There is nothing doing except filling orders for immediate consumption and we have no change to report. Hams, extra sugar cured, ⅌ lb, 15c; shoulders, extra sugar cured, ⅌ lb, 11½c; breakfast bacon, sugar cured, ⅌ lb, 13½c; dried beef, extra sugar cured, ⅌ lb, 17½c; beef tongues, sugar cured, ⅌ doz, $7 50. Bacon—Shoulders, ⅌ lb, 10c; rib sides, 10½c; short rib do, 11c; clear do, 11½c; mess pork, ⅌ bbl, $18. Lard—Prime leaf in tierces, 9½c ⅌ lb; refined for summer use, in tierces, 9½c; refined for summer use, in half bbls, 10½c; refined for summer use, in buckets, 11c; refined in 3 lb caddies, 12½c; refined in 5 lb caddies, 12½c; refined in 3 lb pails, 12½c; refined in 6 lb pails, 12c. The receipts since our last report were but 50 tierces bacon.

BROOMS—Are firm at the following quotations: No. 5 X, $3 50 ⅌ doz; No. 5, $3 25 ⅌ doz; No. 4, $3 ⅌ doz; No. 3, $2 50 ⅌ doz; No. 2, $2 25 ⅌ doz; No. 1, $1 75 ⅌ doz; No. 1 Shakers, $3 50 ⅌ doz; No. 2 Shakers, $3 ⅌ doz.

BUTTER—The demand for a day or so has not been quite so strong, as it was a week or so ago. There seems to be a better supply, and purchasers not buying largely. Choice roll 25@28c ⅌ lb, but if sales are made in a small way by the single tub, 30c ⅌ lb is asked; packed 24@26c ⅌ lb, and medium 18@20c ⅌ lb.

BROOM CORN—There is a moderate trade in broom corn: Green, 7@8c; green hurl, 8@9c; red tip, [illegible].

CARBON OIL—Is in fair request at 17c ⅌ gal, retailed from store.

CEMENTS—The following are the ruling quotations: Benson's Phoenix, $2 25@2 50; Louisville, $2 25@2 50; Rosendale, $2 00@2 50; white lime, $2 00; calcined plaster, $4 50@5 00; land plaster, $1 00@3 50.

CRACKERS—The demand is so great that our bakeries are driven to their full capacity to keep up the supply. As yet there is no change in prices and we quote as follows: Lemon biscuit, 12c; ginger snaps, 12½c; oyster crackers, 7½c; soda crackers, 7½c; sugar crackers, 10c; butter crackers, 7½c; water crackers [illegible].

CHEESE—Considerable inquiry is being made just now for the September make, but the reason assigned for its non-appearance is because the dairymen are not content with the present prices, and want to realize more money. It remains to be seen whether they can hold their stock a sufficient length of time so as to force buyers to pay them the advance asked. We quote prime New York Goshen 14c ⅌ lb; Ohio factory, in round lots, at 13c for July make, and 13½c for August make. In a jobbing way 13½c is asked. There is little inquiry for farm dairy. Limburger and Sweitzer quiet at [illegible].

COUNTRY RAGS—Are in fair request at [illegible] for prime. Dark rags, for cash [illegible].

CANNED GOODS—It is remarkable to see how very active the market is at present for the various articles below quoted. All the various houses where the goods are canned we learn that a sufficient amount of tomatoes cannot be procured, and as a consequence prices will continue very stiff. We quote: [illegible]

FEATHERS—The supply in first hands is not very large, and prices are to a great extent governed by business standing of buyers, as well as to quality. We quote at 55@60c ⅌ lb.

FISH—The market remains nominally unchanged, and while not a very heavy trade is done, prices are firm at the following quotations: Extra No. 1 mess mackerel, $25 ⅌ bbl; No. 1 shore mackerel, $21 ⅌ bbl; extra No. 1 shore mackerel, $23; No. 1 shore mackerel, $22; extra No. 1 bay mackerel, $21; do 1 bay mackerel, $19 50; extra No. 2 mackerel, $17; No. 2 mackerel, $15; extra No. 3 mackerel, $13; No. 3 mackerel, $11 50; Labrador new herring, [illegible]; No. 1 lake white fish, $7 ⅌ half bbl; [illegible]; medium codfish, [illegible].

FLOUR—A better feeling seems to be manifested to-day among the leading houses. Everything seems to be more strengthened, and by next week a larger business will be transacted, with a disposition to ship to the country merchants. The receipts were better to-day, and prices nominally unchanged. Kentucky flours range from $9 25 to [illegible] per bbl; Minnesota, from old wheats, $7 50@8 00 per bbl; Wisconsin, $7 00@8 00 per bbl; rye flours, $5.

GRAIN—The general tone of the grain market today was that of quietness, but dealers were feeling in better spirits, and evinced a desire to resume active business if they could but only get their grain here. Quite a number of them were trying to sell for future delivery by samples, but buyers wanted the grain here before purchasing. Advices received here from Chicago, by private parties, state that everything in that city, in the grain business, looks very cheerful; money is coming in there more freely, and that business men regard not only that it is over, but that everything is somewhat better than expected. Our quotations are very firm, viz: New white [illegible]; ear corn 52@55c; shelled corn 58@60c; oats, [illegible]; choice red wheat $1 45@1 55; barley medium to choice at $1 25@1 50, as to condition and quality; rye quiet at [illegible].

The following transactions were reported to-day:

1 car white oats, in elevator..........40c
1 car ear corn, on track..........48c

The following table shows the amount of grain sold by the car lot in this city for the past week ending to-day:

HOMINY—Sells readily at $5@5 50 ⅌ bbl.

MILL FEED—Buyers are purchasing the smallest quantity they can, and only for immediate use. We quote as follows: Middlings can be quoted at $25 00@30 00 per ton; from store $1 25@1 50 ⅌ 100 lbs. In a retail way 10c extra ⅌ 100 lbs. Bran, $20 ⅌ ton, and $1 ⅌ 100 lbs from store. Oats and corn chop $1 35@1 60 ⅌ 100 lbs; corn chops $1 35 ⅌ 100 lbs. PEARL WHEAT—Continues to sell quite readily at $7 50 per case, with 25 per cent. discount.

POULTRY—Good choice spring chickens are in request, and the market is but poorly supplied.

PEANUTS—Are very fair with a good demand and sell at 12c ⅌ lb.

RAGS—The market is very flat at 3@3½c for country linen rags. Woolen rags are not wanted.

SEEDS—Timothy continues dull at $3 50 but in a small way from store at $3 75 ⅌ bushel.

SAPOLIO—The trade for this indispensible article is excellent. It has been before the public for some time, and its good qualities are well known. The hand sapolio, for the toilet, is fast coming into general use, and gives general satisfaction after the first trial. By the case of 6 doz $6; hand do, $5 per case.

TALLOW—Market firm, with sales at 7¾@8c ⅌ lb.

VINEGAR—Choice cider is quoted at 15@18c ⅌ gallon.

VEGETABLES AND FRUITS—We have little to offer to-day that will be of any material change over yesterday.

Apples come in slowly, and are in moderate request at fair prices.

Grapes are in good demand, and the supply fully equal to it.

Cranberries were plenty to-day, and looked solid and fresh.

Pears are not over abundant in supply, while the inquiry for them is very good.

Potatoes are slow in coming in, and the stock here is very small. We learned of a car load which sold to-day on track at 90c. Sweets are not so much sought after, particularly the Baltimores, while good sound Jerseys have a fair sale.

Quinces are in but fair request. The present arrivals are looking very good.

Onions still continue to be sought after, and choice silver skins sell readily. The stock continues light.

The following are the ruling quotations for the above vegetables and fruits:

On the upper road the market closed weak at $1 20 asked. The market was weak at Parker's Landing. The home refined market was 8c in bulk and 12½c in barrels. Sales and resales of crude petroleum in the oil regions September 30:

Cattle.

The receipts of cattle this week so far have been light, both of through stock and those intended for sale at this point. The attendance of buyers though smaller than usual, is still considered fair, more being here than was expected. The quality of the cattle on sale is about the same grades as are usually offered here. The feeling this week is considerably better than ruled last week, and trade bids fair to resume its usual course. Buyers seem willing to purchase, and prices are at least ¼c higher. The offerings of cattle light, and at the present writing the prospect looks more favorable. Following are about the prices current:

Extra 1,400 to 1,500 lb steers, fine and smooth, $6 00; extra 1,300 lb steers, fine and smooth, $5 50 to $5 75; prime 1,200 lb steers, fine and smooth, $5 00 to $5 25; fair 1,100 lb steers, fine and smooth, $4 50 to $4 75; fair 1,000 lb steers, fine and smooth, $4 00 to $4 25; common, $3 00 to $3 50; bulls, $2 50 to $3 00.

Hogs.

The run of hogs fair and about equal to the demand. Trade moves slow, buyers only purchasing sufficient to meet the immediate wants of the trade. Prices moderately firm at about as follows:

Extra Philadelphia, $5 00; prime do, $4 85 to $4 95; prime Yorkers $4 50 to $4 80.

Sheep.

The run of sheep light. Not many, however, are wanted. The eastern buyers are taking but few and trade rules slow at the following rates:

Extra 100 lbs, $5 00; extra 95 lbs, 4 85 to $4 90; prime 90 lbs, $4 50 to $4 75; fair 85 lbs, $4 00 to $4 25.

New York Finance and Trade.

Gold Closed at 110⅜.

NEW YORK, October 1, 1873—5 P. M.

MONEY

loaned early in the day at ⅛ per cent., but finally the rate declined to 7 per cent., and there was a perceptible increase in the supply. Bank officers report to-day that the demand for currency from country banks and bankers has fallen off, and some banks have telegraphed countermanding orders for currency. In other cases greenbacks are being returned to the city from the country. The amount of loan certificates issued thus far by the Loan Committee of the Clearing House is about $22,000,000. Greenbacks sold at a premium of 2@3 per cent. today for certified checks. The banks and bankers were buying to remit to the West and South for crop movements. Early in the day the supply was less than the demand, but towards the close offerings were more liberal.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

Sterling active and firmer at 107⅜ for sixty days and 108⅜ for sight. Customs receipts to-day $311,000.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The trade in stocks to-day resulted in a general decline in prices, due mainly to the sale of collateral loans, and realizing by parties who need money more than stocks. The decline was not attended by any excitement. Speculation was dull, the demand principally being for investment in small lots. Quite a large amount of railway shares have been absorbed in the last few days by investors. On Friday, the rule permitting an officer of the board to sell any defaulting member out or buy him in will come in force again, and then all contracts which are not settled will have to come before the Exchange. It is not now apprehended that there will be many such, and, indeed, there may be none; but until that day comes no one can tell the worst, so far as stocks are concerned, and, therefore, all are waiting for that day to come and go. The market closed weak, with some stocks down to the lowest point of the day. Dividends on Erie and Lake Shore are being paid to-day.

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF A DRY GOODS FIRM.

The Commercial says: "The firm of Paton & Co., 341 Broadway, one of the oldest dry goods houses in the city, suspended temporarily this afternoon. They are not yet prepared to make any statement. It is understood, however, that the suspension is due to the recent panic, and the members of the firm seem confident that they will soon be able to resume. Although suspended, the store was open and business going forward as usual.

MONONGAHELA—About two feet.

Boats Departing This Day.

Geneva..........West Virginia..........Donaldson, 7 A. M.

THE marks last evening indicated two feet and at a stand. The weather continues pleasant.

CHARLES PARE, clerk of the steamer Frank Beck, has married Mrs. S. F. Dent, of Vicksburg.

THE owners of the hull of the Marble City have sold it to the Big Muddy Coal Company for $4,500.

THE wharfage receipts at Louisville for the two weeks ending Saturday, the 27th ultimo, amounted to $641 15.

LIEUT. E. A. WOODRUFF, in charge of the work of removing the Red river raft, died of yellow fever at Shreveport, last week.

THE punctual steamer West Virginia, Capt. P. Donaldson, takes her departure this day, at 7 P. M., for Brownsville and Geneva. Passengers will bear this in mind.

THE Governor of Louisiana has removed quarantine from the ports of Cayenne, Para, Pernambuco, Rio Janeiro and Buenos Ayres, in South America and other ports.

THE elongation of the Esperanza, on the Carondelet ways, is rapidly approaching completion. When she comes off she will be one of the lightest draught and best boats afloat.

THE wreck of the steamer Kate Swinney, which was sunk in 1855, between Sioux City and Elk Point, is now visible. The current has changed and exposed her hull, for the first time in sixteen years. This wreck furnished the material for the first houses built in Sioux City.

AN Eastern genius, fit for treason, stratagem and spoil, has patented what he is pleased to call a musical steamboat whistle, which imitates the sounds of sixteen different instruments, such as the bugle, fife, piano, melodeon, &c., and gives vent to them all at once, if desired.

THE following telegrams appeared in the St. Paul Pioneer: Winona, September 25.—The steamer Arkansas reports the the Alex. Mitchell hopelessly aground three miles below La Crosse with her nigger broken. The Arkansas arrived at eight o'clock and tried to help the Mitchell off.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal says: Captain B. C. Levi received a telegram from C. A. Whitney & Co., agents for Morgan's line of steamers at New Orleans, instructing him to receive freight for points in Texas, via Galveston, as usual, as quarantine orders would be revoked by the time freight would arrive at New Orleans.

THE Memphis Avalanche says: Great stagnation prevails in shipments to the South from St. Louis on account of the financial troubles, and a flour shipper up there grunts because when he ships 1,000 barrels of flour he can't draw $1,000 on it. The river will have to rise and money matters settle before times will be any better.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made in St. Paul by Captains McCune and Davidson for a daily line of small steamers to ply from St. Paul to Hastings during the low water and connect with the K. N. line boats at the latter point. The Charley Cheever, Damsel and Mountain Belle are now making the connections between the two points.

GOV. BROWN, of Tennessee, has appointed the following gentlemen as members of the Ohio River Commission, which meets at Louisville to-morrow: Mr. J. Parrott and J. S. Boyd, Knoxville; E. A. James and W. H. Spiller, Chattanooga; Gen. J. W. Gillespie, Washington; D. B. Thomas, Johnsonville; J. W. Echolls, Savannah; R. K. Byrd, Kingston; Geo. W. Fain, Dandridge.

BOATS AT ST. LOUIS.—City of Quincy, C. B. Church, Belfast, Grayhound, De Smet, Pisa, Dolphin, Savanna, F. Lewis, Alice, Joe Kinney, City of Chester, Northwestern, John Kyle, John F. Tolle, Fannie Keener, Moonstone, Charles Bodmann, Mary Alice, Crescent City, Colossal, Warner, Park Painter, Legal Tender, Lady Lee, Pauline Carroll, Commonwealth, City of Alton, Salvor No. 2, Jno. A. Scudder, Joe Fleming.

THE St. Louis Globe, of Monday, says: "That dull times are on us is evidenced by the fact that the Memphis Packet Company had no boat out last evening. Such an event has not occurred for years before. When the Mary Alice came up yesterday afternoon the Mollie Moor was still aground at Perry's Tow Head, and badly aground at that. Her starboard guard is all broken forward. It is not known where the Carter Line wharfboat is. The tug Clubb pulled her out from the levee yesterday morning and was to tow her below the city, but she went under, and the last that was seen of the hull was about the foot of Spruce street, where it went out of sight.

IT WILL be remembered that some time last year the colored longshoremen of New Orleans struck on the levee, and after parading up and down, killed Capt. Barnes, a well known stevedore, in a most brutal manner. It was at that time hoped the difficulty had been forever suppressed, but on Sunday before last, the 10th ult., a meeting of colored men was held, when, in substance, the following resolution was adopted: "Whereas, It is deemed that the colored longshoremen along the river in this city are not sufficiently paid for their work; be it resolved, That a demand be made for higher wages, and, if refused, we pledge ourselves to strike work and desist until we receive what we demand." This resolution, it is stated, was unanimously adopted, and a committee was appointed to obtain members to the organization, and subscriptions of money to aid the strikers. It is supposed the outbreak will take place in November.

Petition for a Bond of Indemnity.

Mrs. Johanna Rauber, widow and executrix of the last will and testament of Frank Rauber, deceased, presented a petition in the Common Pleas Court yesterday, as follows: In December, 1870, John Rauber was commissioned a Justice of the Peace in this county, and Frank Rauber became his security in the sum of $1,500. The petitioner has reason to believe that John Rauber is now or about to become insolvent, and the executrix is anxious lest she be compelled to pay out monies on the executed bond. John Rauber by reason of his recently contracted habits has greatly increased the responsibility of his surety, and it is feared that the estate of Frank Rauber will be swept away.

The Court granted a rule on John to show cause why he should not indemnify the petitioner by a counter security against loss on the said bond. The rule was made returnable on October 15, at 10 a. m.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

The last performance of Julius Cæsar was given at the Opera House to an audience nearly as large and quite as enthusiastic as any of the week.

To-night "Rosedale" will be produced with all the scenic accompaniments which, together with the inherent popularity of the play, gave it such an unprecedented run at Wallack's a few years since, and has made it a favorite everywhere.

We expect great things of Mr. Barrett to-night, and a very large audience to enjoy them.

Academy of Music.

It was a pleasure to see so many ladies at the Academy, yesterday afternoon and last evening, enjoying fully the capital performance of the burlesque, "Lotus and Loo" by the Chapman Sisters and their company. The piece contains many good points, and the Misses Chapman and Harry Allen managed to throw in such a number of local "hits" that the audience was kept in a constant state of cachination. Many new songs and duets were introduced, all of which were excellently rendered, and a number of burlesque equestrian, acrobatic and gymnastic performances by Mr. Ed. Chapman, which brought down the house. The company are steadily growing in public favor, and, could they remain another week, would draw overflowing houses. As they cannot do this, however, admirers of burlesque without vulgarity should go and see them some evening this week.

To-night "The Gold Demon" and a popular farce will be given. Seats may be reserved at the box-office during the day.

Aims's American Theater.

The matinee and evening performances at this house yesterday were largely attended and greatly relished. The company never appeared to better advantage. The female minstrel scene takes well with all, while the olio and the play of "Rip Van Winkle" are highly enjoyable. This evening the bill will be changed throughout.

Trimble's Varieties.

Standing room only was the cry here, yesterday afternoon and last night. The Ventinis, John Gilbert, the O'Donohue, Miss Emma Ellinger, Harry Williams and all the great aggregation of stars appeared on both occasions, and gave the most perfect satisfaction. This evening the programme will be entirely new, fresh and sparkling.

Kathi Lanner.

The Eastern as well as the European press speak in terms of high praise of Kathi Lanner and her Coreographic Combination. The performance is one of the most beautiful as well as novel ever witnessed in this country. They will make their first appearance in this city at the Academy of Music, on Monday evening. Lovers of the "poetry of motion" should see them.

THE SMALL NOTE FAMINE.

$200,000 of the Lesser Denominations on the Way from Washington.

There has been quite a "famine" among business men, for several days past, in consequence of their inability to obtain notes of the smaller denominations. Application was made to Washington, for relief, and yesterday Gen. Negley telegraphed to Thomas Steel, Esq., Surveyor of Customs, that, at his request, the Secretary of the Treasury had ordered $200,000 in small bills to be sent here, to be exchanged for bills of large denomination. The money is expected here on Friday morning, when Mr. Steel will be happy to "dish it out" to those who need it.

POLICE COMMITTEE MEETING.

Received and filed.

Mr. Duff here entered and took the chair.

Dr. McCoy, the City Physician, was present and asked the committee what to do in case he is called to attend patients in some of the outer districts at night, when no conveyance can be had. He also suggested that stretchers be supplied for the Central station to carry injured persons. Also that beds be placed in the ward above the Central station office for injured persons, and a medicine cupboard.

Mr. Zern moved that a sub-committee be appointed with power to act upon the physician's suggestions. Carried, and Messrs. Zern, Atterbury, John Moore, Trautman and McGimpsey were appointed.

A number of office bills, amounting to about $300, in addition to the regular police pay roll, were read and ordered to be paid.

The pay roll of police for September, 1873, amounted to $17,145 95.

On motion of Mr. Atterbury it was

Resolved, That Jas. Eagan's name be continued on the pay roll during his imprisonment, and that the Mayor be instructed to pay the fine and costs of prosecution in said Eagan's case.

Mr. McKee moved that a sub-committee of five be appointed to consider the case of officer Barr, fined for assault and battery, and other similar cases, and report the same to the regular Committee. Carried and Messrs. McKee, West, Zern, Trautman and Harris were appointed.

Mr. McKee moved that the Mayor be instructed to place a policeman on Carson street, at the Manchester ferry landing, Temperanceville, as the street is now torn up and travel is very great there. Carried.

Mr. McKee, of the sub-committee appointed to investigate charges preferred by Dr. Marks against officer Clem Kreuter, reported exonerating the officer from all blame. Report received and the committee discharged.

On motion, adjourned.

LOUISIANA.

The Condition of Affairs There.

Mass Meeting at Lafayette Hall—Addresses by Senator Graham, Chairman, Gen. T. Morris Chester, Col. Richard Realf and Others—Resolutions Adopted.

A grand mass meeting of the citizens of Pittsburgh was held last evening at Lafayette Hall to hear addresses from members of the Louisiana delegation concerning the outrages committed by the Democratic faction under Warmouth, and to receive a statement of the difficulties which kept that State in revolt for so long a time. There was a large audience present, who listened to the remarks of the speakers with earnest attention, frequently interrupting them with applause. The Excelsior brass band of Allegheny was in attendance and during the meeting played a number of patriotic and popular airs.

The meeting was called to order by Benjamin Pulpress Esq., chairman of the committee of arrangements, whereupon prayer was offered by Rev. John Peck, Mr. Pulpress then announced the following officers.

CHAIRMAN—Hon. James L. Graham.

VICE PRESIDENTS—Jacob Reese, Esq., G. S. Woodson, John Wilson, Bellview; Robert Jackson, Henry Jackson, Dr. W. J. Gillmore, A. P. Callow, Esq., Dr. A. H. Gross, Hon. Mayor Blackmore, James Park, James McBrier, Esq., Hugh McNeil, J. B. Dazell, Moses Howard, John Gukerson, Henry Daughess, Joseph Mahony, Barney Mahony, G. W. Masse, Paul Caperton, Rev. M. M. Bell, M. E. Dickson, Isaac Morton, Thomas Gatewood, Jacob C. Brown, R. D. E. Ashley, W. H. Brown, Jerry Granderson, Esq., F. J. Lowden, Rev. John Peck, A. Johnston, Edward Baley, John Getor.

SECRETARIES—Luther Miller, Lewis F. Woodson, John P. Jones, Murcy Barker and reporters of the press.

On being introduced Mr. Graham returned thanks for the unexpected honor conferred upon him. We are here, he said, to hear from a distinguished gentleman and orator from Louisiana in regard to the affairs of that unhappy State. You come here to listen to this able, distinguished man of the colored race, and you will be glad to hear him. Prof. Neale of the Committee of Arrangements read the following:

WHEREAS, While we, the citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity, have assembled to greet with words and deeds of welcome hospitality an able representative of the Louisiana delegation, who is here to explain to us the animus which underlies and gives inspiration to the ignoble fusion or unification political movement in that State, it is well for us to take a glance along the line to see how stands the guards of liberty, and from the political outlook to gather increased devotion to the cause of the great Union Republican party, whose wondrous victories in the conflict for Human Rights, stand without a parallel in the world's history; therefore be it resolved,

First, That our purest sympathy and best moral support are hereby extended to the true Union Republican party of Louisiana, whose official representatives, Gov. Wm. Pitt Kellogg, his subordinates and its legally elected Legislature, have kept close watch and ward over the industrial and financial interests of the State; whose acts have, also, been sanctioned by the higher courts and recognized by President Grant and our loyal Congress. For these reasons we implore the President and his Cabinet and both branches of our National Legislature to circumvent the designs of those who are seeking to render nugatory and useless the results of the late war, by placing the reins of the State government into the hands of half repentant rebels who will bring anarchy to desolate once more the richest of our Southern States.

Second. That the worthy men whom the citizens of Louisiana have chosen to represent to the people of the North, East and West, the true condition of political affairs among them, deserve and should receive the endorsement and support of every true patriot. And we hereby extend to the one with us this evening, Gen. T. Morris Chester, the hospitality of our hearths and homes during his stay in our city.

Third. That we find all along the line, from Maine to Georgia, the guards of liberty at their posts, and the undaunted hosts of the Republican party organizing for victory at the October elections. Hence we would fail in our duty if we allowed the present occasion to pass without giving an explicit and unqualified endorsement of all the nominations, State and local, made by the Republican party of Pennsylvania through its duly authorized conventions. As was Ruth's loyalty to Boaz, so is ours to the Republican party: Its candidates are our candidates; its people are our people. For it has ever been our friend, faithful and just to us. It was with us through six troubles and it will not forsake us in the seventh. We now look to it for our National Civil Rights Bill; we look to it to take up, here in Pennsylvania, any worthy colored man, who may be actuated by an honest ambition, and help to nominate and elect him to any office, he may without prejudice be adjudged fit to occupy.

Fourth. That as colored citizens, we here declare that the Republican party has always done more for us than it promised, and it will be a dark day when we abandon it to seek affiliation with a new party which dazzles us with visions of polititical preferment, never to be realized and thus woos us to our destruction.

Prof. Neale moved the adoption of the resolutions.

Prof. Neale read a letter from Hon. Jas. S. Negley who had been to preside, expressing his regrets at being unable to attend the meeting.

The Chairman then introduced Gen. T. Morris Chester of Louisiana, who was received with applause. General Chester spoke substantially as follows:

GEN. CHESTER'S SPEECH.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I thank you for the kind reception given me and the honor conferred upon me by this large assemblage of ladies and gentlemen. I see many before me whom I knew twenty years ago when I was a student at Avery College, Allegheny. What wonderful political circumstances and changes have occurred that now bring me before you. Under all these I am thrilled with sensations of mingled pleasure and embarrassment in appearing before you. Religious and political persecution, the spirit of adventure and other causes, have induced a large number of native Americans to settle in Louisiana. Since the great struggle there has been a reactionary spirit manifested, but in the reconstruction and reorganization of the State we have been ruled and governed by vindictiveness and bitterness. They have ignored the Christian principle "do to others as you would have them do unto you." They have attempted to stifle out every sentiment of virtue, and have mocked at our misery. In all this we recognize the spirit of slavery which is still to be felt in the South. We wish to impress you fully as to our condition in Louisiana. [illegible] to commend us to public favor, but we come to you with a cause which we propose to defend, with wrongs which we believe you will remedy, with outrages which we hope you will condemn, and with rights which we believe you will make sacred all over the land.

The population of the State of Louisiana consists of 365,000 colored and 362,000 white persons. At least 5,000 of those designated white are known to be colored. Men sufficiently "bleached" through climatic influences find no difficulty in being recognized in all respects by the whites of Louisiana. I have never to my knowledge seen General Beauregard, but it is authoritatively asserted by the old colored residents of New Orleans that he is an American citizen of African descent; and there are others occupying equally as high a position in Southern estimation, whose connection with the children of the sun is as notorious as that of the hero of Fort Sumpter. There are 10,000 foreigners in the State who persist in their allegiance to various governments in the Old World, and 5,000 white men who vote the Republican ticket. Subtract the 10,000 foreigners and the 5,000 bleached colored men from the census of the whites, and their number is increased to 347,000, and add the 5,000 bleached colored men to our figures, and our number is increased to 370,000. The 5,000 white Republicans include a population of 25,000 persons, and in subtracting this number from the whites, and adding it to the colored, the exact Republican population in the State is 395,000, against 322,000 of all other political affinities. The usual estimate of voters in a population is one out of every five, which, according to the figures submitted, gives 79,000 Republican votes against 64,000 for all other political parties, leaving 15,000 majority for the "Party of Progress."

After speaking of the frauds perpetrated under the registration and election laws, he said that Warmouth proved faithful to the compact entered into with his new found friends to overcome the 15,000 Republican majority by fraud, and this infamy would have been consummated had it not been for Judge Durell, who, in the judgment upon the famous case of Wm. Pitt Kellogg vs. Warmouth et al., rose to the dignity of the occasion, and becoming the Gibraltar of the people of the State, said to the surging columns of exulting corruption and fraud, "Thus far shalt thou go, and no farther."

Sitting in a Court of Chancery with equitable jurisdiction untrammelled by the technicalities and formalities of law, with his oath of office and his conscience to direct him, this learned and upright judge, fully comprehending the case, rendered that judgment which is approved by the great Judge of Judges. Let us look at the spectacle as it presented itself to the consideration of the court, the State and the Nation; the enforcement law intended to secure the new born citizens in their rights, which was violated in letter and spirit, and which Judge Durell had sworn to faithfully administer. There was the notorious compact between Warmouth and the Democracy openly entered into to defraud the Republican party out of the control of the State. There were false registrations all over the Commonwealth and frauds at every poll. The purity of elections was scandalized, and the sanctity of the ballot box was violated. The men notoriously defeated were returned as elected, and the elected were returned as defeated. The rights of the people were trampled upon and public virtue was ridiculed. Disorder, confusion and anarchy were threatened in the triumph of Warmouth and his fraudulent compact. Public rights were endangered by public wrongs when Judge Durell, in whom was concentrated the hopes of the people of the State, who seemed to be inspired with wisdom and justice from on high, grappled with the intricate questions involving law and facts, and restrained and suppressed the audacious pretensions of the Fusionists, founded upon fraud. Judge Durell's decision was the defeat and death-knell of the unholy compact to seize the State government, in violation of law and in defiance of the solemn voice of the people at the ballot-box. Under the operation of this judgment, right has triumphed, justice has prevailed, peace has been maintained, and the State has been blessed with unexampled prosperity and happiness. Judge Durell, in his famous orders and decrees, saved the State from blood and anarchy, preserved the independence of the citizens and the liberties of the people. Heaven, in its mysterious operations in the affairs of men, would never permit such a monstrous combination to prevail as was contemplated by the Fusionists of Louisiana, and if all other means had failed, I firmly believe that God's Providence would have been as signally manifested in the overthrow of the Warmouth compact as it was in the downfall of the Southern Confederacy and its institution of slavery.

He concluded his remarks by discussing at length the legality of the Kellogg government. General Chester paid a high tribute to the administration of Governor Kellogg and its financial success.

After music by the band Col. Richard Realf was introduced by the chairman, and spoke as follows:

SPEECH OF COLONEL REALF.

Colonel Realf said it was hardly necessary to add a single word to the eloquent, cogent and convincing address of General Chester. It bristled four-square with incontrovertible facts—was broad-based as the pyramids, and as invulnerable. But there was an important lesson contained in the matter which the colored people of Pennsylvania would themselves do well to heed. It was this: Never make the fox trustee for the fowls. In other words, never intrust your welfare and interests to the guardianship of those who are the natural enemies of such welfare and interests. Modern Democracy was instinctively, traditionally and historically the political enemy of the colored race. Down until the breaking out of the civil war, wherever a seat of power was reared in this country, negro-hating Democracy assumed it. It ruled commerce, it mastered legislatures, it swayed Congress, it controlled administrations, it infected judiciaries, it expunged the truth of history, it laid its index expurgatorius on the page of prayer-book and school-book; it clasped the Bible with handcuffs, and fettered the Sacred Cross with chains!

And during the war, and since: It opposed emancipation with might and main. It denounced the enlistment of colored troops, at a time when the cause of the Union swung dubiously in the balance, and every loyal musket, backed by a loyal heart, was worth its weight in gold. It tried to hinder their equal payment with their white comrades, it resisted to the last gasp their political enfranchisement; it withstood the passage of the Enforcement act; it had thus far thwarted the will of the nation by preventing the passage of a Civil Rights bill; and generally and particularly it had set its face like a flint against almost every measure having for its object the protection or the amelioration of the condition of our patient, plodding brethren who had so recently come up out of "great tribulation" into the beneficent order and light of liberty. Democracy had done, or sought to do, all these progress-obstructing things; and to-day, wherever in the Southern States that party was still in the ascendant—in Virginia and Alabama for example—it was soaked through and through with the same abominable caste prejudice and hatred. In the Northern States, where its fangs were drawn, Democracy tried to coax and cajole the colored people; in the South, where it was still virile, it proscribed and persecuted. The proper time for them to trust Democracy would be when the hawk turned nursing-parent to the dove.

There was one thing to be remembered. All past experience taught that every departure from simple Republicanism had only had the effect of playing the Republicans into the hands of the Democracy. It had been so with the various so-called "Labor Reform" movements; it was so with "Liberalism" last year, and it threatened to be so with the different outside movements which had been set on foot in Allegheny county this year. No man, whatever his color, liked to see his efforts frittered uselessly away; and inasmuch as there was not the slightest possibility of the success of these irregular tickets, the speaker entertained no doubt whatever that the colored voters of Allegheny county would have the prudence as well as the patriotism to place their ballots where they would do "the most good," by casting them for the candidates of that great party of Liberty and Humanity with whose continued supremacy the welfare and advancement of themselves and of their race were now, as in the past, indissolubly associated and inwoven.

The able speech of Col. Realf was frequently applauded throughout. At its conclusion the chair introduced Mr. Paul J. Carson as the first colored man that had held office in Allegheny county.

REMARKS OF MR. CARSON.

Mr. Carson said the call was unexpected, but as a native of the city of Pittsburgh, on behalf of his associates and the colored people of the city, he returned thanks to their distinguished friend, Gen. Chester, of Louisiana. The speaker referred to the distinguished services of Gen. Chester, and said that as an able colored man his renown was world wide. The speaker was once well beloved in New Orleans, so well beloved that he was held there and fed on corn meal, which he had to grind himself. [Laughter.] He urged the voters before him to sustain the progressive party, the Republican party, and warned them against the side issues of temperance, farmers' granges, labor reform, and asked which of the parties offered security and aid to the colored man. None but the Republican party offered support to the colored people. He advised all to follow the precept of uncle Billy Bebbins when he wanted to go to heaven, and to tell all outside fellows that they are going to elect the Republican ticket in their roundabout. [Applause and laughter.]

At the conclusion of Mr. Carson's happy address, the motion to adopt the resolutions was passed unanimously, and after a few remarks from General Chester, explanatory of the absence of other members of the Louisiana delegation, the meeting adjourned.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

Election of Officers—Reports from the Several Boards, &c., &c.

The First U. P. Synod of the West resumed its session in the Fifth Church, Allegheny (Rev. Mr. Witherspoon), yesterday morning, and was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The election of a new Moderator was then proceeded with, and resulted in the choice of Rev. D. W. French, D. D., of the First Church, Mercer, Pa.

Rev. H. H. Harvey was appointed Assistant Clerk.

Rev. W. J. Robinson was placed on the Committee on Sabbath Schools, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Rev. Fulton.

Rev. Lowry E. Berkely, of Surgan, county Armagh, Ireland, was invited to a seat as a corresponding member of the Synod, and on invitation he addressed the body, giving an interesting account of the progress and promises of Presbyterianism in Ireland. Rev. Berkley is the ex-Moderator of the Irish Presbyterian Assembly, and is now a delegate to the World's Evangelical Alliance to meet at New York to-day.

Reports were read by the assistant Clerk from the Presbyteries of Lake, Mercer, Allegheny, Cleveland, Detroit, Michigan, Butler and Beaver Valley. The Boards of Education, Home and Foreign Missions, Freedmen and Church Extension made their reports; also the Treasurers of the Synod, the Theological Seminary of Allegheny and of the Endowment Fund of that institution.

The reports of Presbyteries showed some changes but presented nothing of general public interest.

FINANCIAL REPORTS.

The reports of the Treasurer of the Synod, Mr. Thomas Jamison, exhibited a balance on hand of $182 43.

The Treasurer of the Theological Seminary, Rev. W. J. Reid, reported as follows:

Young Men's Fund—Receipts, 1,049 00; expenditures, $1,007 50; balance, $41 50.

Endowment Fund—Permanent investment, $20,790.

BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Rev. J. B. Dales, D.D., Corresponding Secretary of the Board, presented a report in which the Board calls loudly for additional help in foreign fields. They also need funds, $500 being required to meet a note soon to mature.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

Rev. A. G. Wallace, Secretary of the Board of Church Extension, presented the annual report, which shows increased contributions although the Board has not been able to meet all the calls upon it. The receipts were $25,364 62. Although this is larger than in any previous year, an examination of the Treasurer's report shows that some of the Presbyteries gave but little, and a few gave nothing to this important part of work of the church. The receipts since the Assembly have been only $1,977 17. The payments during the year, were $24,088 12: since the Assembly $3,181 30.

The appropriations reported to the Assembly were, donations, $15,497 69; loans, $22,069 14 total, $37,566 83. Since the Assembly, grants have been made for donations, $3,413; and for loans, $3 800; total, $7,213, including the quotas of two Presbyteries.

The appropriations not paid are as follows: Of 1871-2, $400, not yet called for; of 1872-3, $17,118; of 1873-4, $6,613. Total, $24,131. Some of this will not be required for several months, and one grant of $350 will not be called for, but the appropriations for work completed or approaching completion, amount to $15,000.

The Synod decided to meet at 9 A. M. and 2 P. M., and 7½ P. M. daily, after which they took a recess until two o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the usual introductory exercises, the Moderator nominated and Synod confirmed the following Standing Committees:

McCrea, John Armstrong and Mr. Walter Davis. Mercer—Rev. S. M. Hood, L. J. Crawford and Mr. John C. Moore.

Rev. J. A. Myers of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church of the South, was invited to a seat as a corresponding member.

On motion it was resolved that when the Synod adjourn, it adjourn to meet in New Castle on the last Tuesday of September, 1874.

The Committee on Presbyterian Boundaries, presented their report which was laid on the table until this morning.

The report of the Trustees of the Westminster College, at New Wilmington, Lawrence county, was presented, from which it appears that the attendance of students the past year has been larger than heretofore, showing at present a roll of 202. The institution had a faculty of a President and four Professors, and was flourishing finely in this respect. From the financial statement it appeared there was a deficiency in the matter of salaries of $766 17—the aggregate salaries amounted to $6,500, while but $5,733 83 had been secured for the purpose. In the contingent fund there was a balance of $578 40. The indebtedness of the institution footed up $4,549 62. The endowment fund showed a total of $71,744 67. The estimated receipts for the coming year were $6,678 88, and the expenses $6,500, which would leave a deficiency of $621 12.

The Board further reported that they were making every effort to increase the endowment fund, and had appointed Rev. J. Kennedy general agent to solicit funds.

The resignation of Prof. Shafer (who left theology for the law) was reported, and the filling of the vacancy by the appointment of Prof. Stewart to his place, this gentleman's former position being in turn filled by the appointment of Rev. W. H. McCleery. The Board, in conclusion, asked that Synod take some action to aid them in increasing the Endowment Fund.

The report was received and laid over for future consideration.

A number of papers on the clerk's desk were then referred to the appropriate committees, and the Synod adjourned with prayer by the Rev. M. Galbraith.

The evening session was opened with prayer by the moderator, and after the usual introductory exercises, the report of the Board of Publication was presented. They reported that of the $6,000 appropriated by the general assembly to the Board's work, only $3,461 62 had been received from the Presbyteries. Private donations of $2,580 had increased the amount to $5,081 62. The net assets of the Board showed a gain over the year $10,901. Deduct the amount received from the church there was a balance of $6,961 28 as a net gain from the business of the Board. The debt on the new building, on Ninth street had been reduced from $20,000 to about $14,000. The part of the building not used by the Board was rented for $3,725 annually. The calls for donations of Bibles, and psalm book, &c., had been quite numerous and had been responded to as generally as was possible, and from many localities came evidences of the good that had been done in this direction.

The report was received and filed.

The Synod resolved to devote the remainder of the evening to the consideration of missionary matters, foreign and home, dividing the time equally between them.

Drs. Cooper, Cummins and Alexander made addresses in reference to foreign missons and Rev. Dr. Brown, Secretary of the Board of Home Mission, Rev. Mr. McArthur, Rev. J. W. Bain, Rev. A. G. Wallace, Rev. J. M. Simmons and Rev. J. Patterson made a few remarks on the work among the Freedmen as a part of Home Missionary work. Rev. Dr. Cummins and Rev. J. W. Witherspoon, Secretary of the Freedmen's Board, made addresses on the same subject.

The Secretary of the Board of the Theological Seminary, Rev. A. G. Wallace, then presented the report of that institution. There had been two meetings of the Board during the year. During the year there had been forty-one students in attendance—all regular in attendance, diligent in studies and exemplary in deportment. The professors reported that greater attention had been paid last year to homiletics. The services of an elocutionist had been secured with good results. The Board had decided hereafter to have the examination conducted with pointed questions as they thought it the best way. The Board reported that an increase on the endowment fund was imperatively necessary, and a committee, consisting of Revs. D. W. Collins, J. T. McClure, H. H. Herney and Elder Thomas McCance, was appointed to solicit subscriptions from the Presbyteries and congregations. The Secretary further reported that the term of office of the following persons had expired: Rev. Dr. J. N. Dick, J. P. Scott and Elder Thomas McCance.

The report was received and laid on the table for consideration to-day.

Synod then adjourned until this morning at nine o'clock.

THE POSTOFFICE.

Assistant Postmaster Anderson and Fifteen Others Removed—The Reasons for Their Dismissal.

It has been known, for several days, that quite a number of the employees under Col. Stewart, late Postmaster, would be removed by Major Petherbridge Acting Postmaster. Yesterday the following changes were announced as having been made:

Col. Robert Anderson, Assistant Postmaster, for several reasons: 1. Because an Assistant Postmaster is entirely unnecessary. 2. Because Mr. Anderson paid the last pay roll, and paid men who were not on it, and others who were on it, but who rendered no service, without informing the Postmaster General of the fact. 3. Because of general unfitness for the work of which he had charge.

Henry Abel was removed as a supernumerary. He had been retained because he understood the German language; but the work done by him and another clerk is now performed by the latter alone, with time to spare.

Thomas Collins was discharged for much the same reason, there not being work to employ his time.

T. A. Smith was discharged because he has not done any work for eight months and has been drawing his pay.

Joseph Little, acting as an assistant janitor, was discharged, because the colored janitor was sufficient to do the work.

John E. Creamer was discharged from the distributing department for reasons Major Petherbridge declines to make public.

The following persons were dropped from the rolls: Thomas Little, Jr. (secretary of Fire Commission and clerk at livery stable), Miss Mary McClelland, George H. Bates, John C. Vandergrift, Harry P. Kuhn, Joseph Summerville, and W. C. Miltenberger. The following letter carriers were discharged: William Forsyth, Joseph Johnston and J. F. Rivers, who was a detective, and although regularly paid, never did any work for the postoffice.

Hon. Alexander Millar, of McKeesport, a former member of the Legislature from Allegheny county, has been appointed to a place in the money department. His appointment was asked by Mr. Von Bonnhorst, and the appointment was promptly made by Major Petherbridge on his recommendation.

THE COAL QUESTION.

Reply of the Executive Committee of the Miners' Association to the Address of the River Coal Exchange.

At a recent session of the Coal Miners' Convention, a resolution was adopted authorizing the Executive Committee of the organization to reply to the address of the River Coal Exchange, published on the 20th inst. The following is the reply:

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Concerning the miners' strike (as the operators are pleased to term it), are the miners in the wrong when they demand that their coal shall be weighed with 76 pounds to the bushel? Or, is it unjust, when coal is dug by measurement, when the miners refuse to fill the car more than even full, or refuse to fill a top on a car that is branded with 2,688 cubic inches to the bushel? Who are really the strikers?

In a meeting of the Coal Exchange on the 26th inst., they speak of the large coal supplies, in the various cities on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Why then should the consumer lose or suffer, as all that coal was dug at old rates, and operators' rule?

The operators claim that from the earliest of the coal business, it was considered by the miners and operators, that the latter should have for mining one-half of what the coal was worth at the tipple, and that this rule should still hold good. Now the oldest of the miners, in this county, have no remembrance of any such rule. It strikes us very forcibly that such rule was never in existence, as it would, in our opinion, not give a uniform price for mining. Coal at Saw Mill Run tipple, or in the first pool is surely a higher price than in the fourth pool.

The Coal Exchange further state in their address: "For the last three years coal was worth at the tipple seven cents per bushel." The river operators in 1871 stated (in the shape of a remonstrance against the passage of the so-called screen bill) that coal was worth at the tipple six and one-half cents per bushel, and the miner received for mining four cents per bushel for this screened coal, or two and a half cents less per bushel than the value at the tipple. If that statement was correct the miner should now receive, when it is seven cents at the tipple, four and a half cents per bushel for mining! How does that early claimed rule, based on nothing, (one-half the value at the tipple for mining,) suit these figures, when in 1871 the price for mining would have been three and one-fourth cents per bushel, where they claimed it was four cents. At present mining would be three and a half cents, where it is four cents. The nut coal question cannot make consistent the different statements, nor these figures, as the early claimed was before the time of this nut coal business.

And says the exchange: "But if the diggers get a full equivalent in the price of mining the lump coal," etc., "and a good miner in tolerable good coal will only make six per cent nut coal," etc. Providing one place in a mine would produce as much nut coal as another, and the various mines would all yield the same amount of nut coal, then the Exchange's idea in this would be correct. But there is not one practical miner in this county but knows that different places in a mine yield a different amount of nut coal, and all honest operators that have dug coal heretofore will bear out this assertion. As stated by the Exchange, six per cent of nut coal is the amount. Why, some operators claim there is twelve, some fifteen and others twenty per cent. The miners themselves differ on this question, like the operators, and it naturally follows that nut coal should be paid for by itself, as it is sold by itself. At present, in Cincinnati, it retails at seventeen cents per bushel, and still not pay anything for it!!! It is certain that the Exchange sells lump coal by itself, and nut coal by itself. Then, why not pay the miner for each in the same manner? We, the miners, want justice and uniformity in standard, and uniformity in the price for mining, so that good and friendly feeling and peace, may exist among miners and operators. We don't claim, and never did claim, pay for anything that don't command a price in market. The river miners are not asking pay for the dust coal now, nor never before. It is certainly but natural that the miners should demand pay for this nut coal, when we consider the price it sells at in the markets.

We do not dictate to the River Exchange, that they must run coal over a three-fourth inch screen. They may run it over any size screen to suit any market. We do not ask them to mix lump and nut coal together in one boat, because we know if they would, it would almost fill the boat solid, and it would not measure much more, or amount to many more bushels; but it would have the effect of less depth measurement (in coal) with the same depth of the boat drawing water, we mean. Nor do we ever intend to dictate to the Exchange how they shall prepare their coal for market. The only difference, in our opinion, between the miners and Exchange is, the increase of price, In accordance with the Exchange's address (6 per cent. nut coal), the whole difficulty would be 12 cents of an advance, or three per cent. on the dollar. Nevertheless, we honestly declare, the advance would be more. And we are determined that nut coal shall be paid for by itself, to the miner, as long as it is produced by itself, and sold in the market by itself; and we shall use all honorable means to accomplish that end. And we shall further try our very utmost, that the river miners may not resume work again in the manner they have been working in many places, contrary to the intent of the law. The miners cannot and shall not be starved for the next six months to come, back into these old rules. We will advocate this just and honorable struggle of the river miners through all the mining counties and States. We know this cause of ours is based on justice, and justice and truth will prevail.

Yours,

WM. STREET,
GEO. ARCHBOLD,
AUG. STEINER,

THE POSTMASTERSHIP.

Appointment of Maj. E. C. Negley.

A telegraphic dispatch was received in this city, yesterday, at noon, from the Postmaster General, announcing that the President had appointed Maj. E. C. Negley as postmaster, in place of Col. Stewart removed. Col. Anderson, and others employed in the office having been removed by Major Petherbridge, as elsewhere noticed. Mr. Negley stood next in the line of succession, under the Civil Service rules, and he was appointed, his fitness and competency having been fully certified to by Major Petherbridge, and indorsed by many of our citizens. Major Negley has been employed in the money department of the office for the past five years.

The statement that Mr. Errett and Mr. Mackey were in Washington city, urging the appointment of either Dr. Gilmore or Mr. Jacob Reese, published with such a flourish yesterday, in one of the morning papers, was wholly unfounded. Messrs. Errett and Mackey have both been in Philadelphia for several days, and neither Dr. Gilmore nor Mr. Reese were applicants for the office of postmaster.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

THERE fell due yesterday $13,000 Workhouse bonds, which were promptly redeemed.

HON. GEORGE K. ANDERSON, Republican candidate for State Senator in the Crawford district, was in the city yesterday.

THE Allegheny Police Committee held a meeting last evening and passed the pay roll for the month of September, amounting to $3,410 53.

THE inquest in the case of Wright, the supposed murder at the railroad bridge, will be continued on Saturday morning, at ten o'clock, at the Coroner's office, on Grant street.

A MEETING of the creditors of James T. Brady & Co. has been called to-day at ten o'clock, at the office of R. & S. Woods, Fourth avenue, to agree upon a settlement of the accounts.

CHAS. CARPENTER and John Markel were arrested last evening on Fourth avenue for disorderly conduct. Markel resisted, and in the scuffle attempted to cut Lieut. Gordon. Only his pants were cut, however.

BY REFERENCE to an advertisement on the first page, persons wanting a partner, or to engage a business man of long experience and wide acquaintance in this section, can find the man they want.

FRANK KIERNAN, for many years mail agent on the Pennsylvania Railroad, has resigned, and will take charge of a coal works near Latrobe. Jos. H. Bair, an old employee of the railroad, has received the appointment to the vacancy.

AN interesting little daughter of Postmaster Myler, of Allegheny, aged four years, died Tuesday evening, after an illness of about two days. This sudden death will cause more poignant grief, from the fact that both parents were absent from home.

MR. G. W. RANKIN, the well known real estate agent, has returned from his California trip. He reports that there is a very large amount of real estate between here and the Pacific, but no better bargains or safer investments than are to be had in and around Pittsburgh.

TWO CARS collided on the Manchester Passenger Railway, on Bidwell street, Tuesday evening, the result of fractious conduct of one of the teams. The pole of one car was struck through the side of the other, and a lady passenger cut in the face by a piece of broken glass.

STEPHEN DUFF, who was accommodated with lodging in the Allegheny Mayor's office, Tuesday night, quarreled with and knocked down an old man, for which he was yesterday morning committed to the workhouse for thirty days. He evidently desired to be quartered somewhere for a short term.

THE Beaver Argus and Radical says: Hon. Thos. Ewing and Hon. J. W. F. White, of Pittsburgh, are known as two of the best members of the Constitutional Convention, and unfortunately for the State at large, both go on the Bench of the District Court of Allegheny before the submission of the Constitution.

THIS afternoon a game of base ball will be played at Union Park between Aims's American Theater Nine and Trimble's Varieties Nine. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and will doubtless be a warmly contested and interesting one. The price of admission is fixed at twenty-five cents and tickets are for sale at all the principal saloons.

MR. ISAAC A. REED, Assistant Observer, United States Signal Service, stationed in this city, will please accept the thanks of the COMMERCIAL for his promptitude in furnishing the different interesting reports pertaining to his department of the public service. Mr. Reed is a careful and painstaking officer, and attends to his duties faithfully.

THE payment of the firemen and police force of the city for the past month has been postponed until next Monday. The reason for this is on account of the stringency of the money market, and the desire on the part of the City Controller to be as lenient towards the banks as possible. The payment of these officials would require the drawing out of the three depositories, about $72,000.

THE matter in controversy between the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore Railroad Company, and the Commissioners for the improvement of Second avenue, relative to the alleged encroachments upon the roadway of the company, in the widening of the avenue, will come up before the Street Survey and Road Committees, this morning, to whom the petition was referred. The Committees intend to meet at the office of the Superintendent of the Railroad Company, for consultation with the officers.

HENRY COULTER, the oarsman, has been prosecuted for larceny by bailee, J. Snyder and Peter Gilg appearing as complainants. In a recent boating contest between Coulter and Scharff, Snyder had put up $125 and Gilg $5, as backers for Coulter. This was deposited with Mr. Queen, and the race not having come off, the stakes were declared forfeited and the money handed over to Coulter, who, after agreeing to meet his backers and pay over to them, failed to do so. It is alleged that he has gone East.

To Save Time and Trouble

Deposit your money at the Farmers and Mechanics Bank, South Side, where you can draw it without previous notice.

"Yom Kipper" and "Succoth."

The Jewish fast of "Yom Kipper" terminated last evening at sundown. The peculiar feature of the observance consists in the total abstinence from all manner of food and drink for twenty-four hours. From sunset on Tuesday evening until sunset on Wednesday evening the pious Israelite did not allow the least particle of food or a drop of water to pass his lips. Services are conducted in the synagogues without interruption, and consist chiefly of confessions of sins during the past year, and prayers to God for forgiveness.

On Monday, the 6th inst., the Jewish festival of "Succoth," or Feast of Tabernacles, will be commenced and continued for eight days. This is the harvest feast of the Jews, and is a season of rejoicing and thanksgiving for the abundant crops vouchsafed to the country by the Almighty. Although a most important epoch in the calendar, the observance of this festival is not general, being confined almost entirely to the orthodox portion of the Jewish community.

The Late Capt. John White.

A Cincinnati paper has the following:

"Captain James S. Wise has advices from the British Consul at St. Louis that John White, who formerly piloted between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, and is now about sixty years old, has fallen heir to considerable property in Scotland. The whereabouts of the aforesaid John White is not known at present, and should this notice meet his eye, he is requested to report to Captain Wise for indentification and a snug fortune."

Capt. John White, a former pilot between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, and lately employed on some of our tow boats, died a few months since. This is the only Captain White that we have any recollection of.

POLITICAL.

State.

The Beaver Radical and Argus pays this compliment to Hon. R. W. Mackey: "In all our financial difficulties he has protected the Treasury from loss, and maintained the credit of the Commonwealth. Because of his great ability and his successful management of our finances, he was nominated by the Republican party for election by the people under our amended constitution and the people have already ratified that nomination by an indorsement seldom ever received by a candidate. His election is beyond doubt and by a majority such as no man ever received at an election other than Presidential, since the organization of the Commonwealth; as an officer he has had no superior and few equals, and as a man he has more warm, devoted friends than any other public man in the Commonwealth. The people are his debtors and cannot afford to dispense with his services. The more his management of the Treasury is understood, the more this fact will be apparent and the larger his majority will be. For this reason the Democratic press and politicians let him alone, and have conceded his election ever since his almost unanimous nomination."

The Republicans of Wyoming have an excellent ticket this year, and they are confident of electing a portion of their candidates by a handsome majority. Wyoming promises to become a Republican county before long.

The Washington Reporter says: At the meeting of the Republican County Committee, on Thursday last, reports were received from all parts of the county of the most cheering character. These reports indicate that the Republicans are awake to their duty, and that when the day of election arrives they will be at the polls.

California.

NEW PARTY MOVEMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—The State Central Committee of the People's Independent party met last night and perfected an organization by electing W. W. Dodge permanent Chairman, and J. R. Sharpstein and M. C. Conroy, Secretaries. A pamphlet will be issued to the people of the State setting forth the objects, principles and policy of the party.

South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 1.—Incomplete returns of the municipal election indicate the defeat of Wagner, the present incumbent, for Mayor, and the election of Cunningham and the whole Republican ticket.

FALL CAMPAIGN
OF THE HOMESTEAD BANK.
AUCTION SALES OF THE BEST SUBURBAN PROPERTIES NOW FOR SALE IN THE COUNTY.
60x120 feet, and
ONE TO FIVE ACRE LOTS, IN THE WEST ADDITION TO HOMESTEAD.
Saturday, October 4, at 1:30 P. M.

Terms—One fifth cash, balance in four annual payments, with interest.

This magnificent property having been purchased before the opening of the railroad and before the great sale at Homestead, in 1871, was secured at a price that enables the Bank to make a satisfactory profit while selling it for less than adjoining lands can now be bought at wholesale.

There was never a surer speculation than buyers at this sale will have.

Free train leaves South Pittsburgh Station at 1 o'clock P. M., sharp.

Also,
80x150 feet and
ONE TO THREE ACRE LOTS AT HOMESTEAD PARK,
MONDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 6TH.
Special trains from Union Depot at 1 o'clock P. M., sharp.

In the face of extravagant, not to say preposterous and mendacious claims put forth for properties in no way comparable to Homestead Park, we shall attempt no description of its beauties or advantages, but simply ask all who contemplate suburban investment, either for use or speculation, to COME OUT AND LOOK AT IT, and we challenge intelligent criticism not only of the property, but of the assertion that the likelihood of LARGE PROFIT TO PURCHASERS IS greater at Homestead Park than at any other equally distant property now in the market.

ALSO,
60x120 FEET, AND
1 TO 3 ACRE LOTS, AT HOMESTEAD TERRACE,
on Monday afternoon, October 13. Special train on Allegheny Valley Railroad, at 1 o'clock P. M., sharp.

Accessible from the city by the Allegheny Valley Railroad and the new driving road, Wildwood avenue, HOMESTEAD TERRACE is destined to become a center of suburban improvement. It is, in truth, the first eligible site for a village outside the city, and is two miles nearer the city than Verona or any of the suburbs of that village.

To all those whose business will permit a residence on the A. V. R. R., the Terrace offers advantages not to be found further away from the city, where as much is asked for 25 by 100—2,500 square feet—as will buy 60 by 120—7,200 square feet—at Homestead Terrace.

The terms of sale at Homestead Park and Homestead Terrace is one-tenth cash, balance in nine equal payments without interest. Second mortgage privilege to those who build: free life insurance to those of suitable age and health.
